CLARK'S TROOPS CAPTURE AGED CITY OF TUSCANIA

By Noland Norgard
ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN ITALY, June 10.—(AP)—Nazi forces in Italy, fleeing northward in a rout that the Allied command declared had become a "catastrophe," turn to make a stand of stubborn but not fully disclosed proportions late today around a village some miles northeast of Viterbo, which is 40 miles above Rome.

George Tucker, Associated Press correspondent with the Fifth army in the field, wrote in a dispatch timed 9:30 p. m. tonight that the previously almost-unopposed race of the Allies to overtake the retreating Germans had slowed perceptibly when they ran into the force of German 88-millimeter and anti-tank guns in and around the village.

The Allies brought up tanks, infantry and artillery, and the fighting quickly assumed the character of a "snail's pace," Tucker said.

Indications were that the Fifth army, which has advanced at a speed of about 15 miles a day since the fall of Rome last Sunday, had succeeded in its racing efforts to overtake and engage some important units of Col. Gen. Eberhard von Mackensen's 14th Army.

Capturing the ancient town of Tuscania, 13 miles northeast of Tarquinia, which fell Friday, the Fifth army had

POSTMASTERS TO MEET HERE

To Assemble At 11 A. M. For Area Meeting; To Discuss Problems

The fourth of a series of district meetings of postmasters will be held in Monroe on Sunday, June 11, at 11 a. m. according to P. F. Morone, postmaster at Ville Platte, who is secretary of the Louisiana Chapter, National Association of Postmasters. The meeting is to be held in the post office building.

The main purpose of the meeting is to discuss certain problems which have arisen affecting the postal service and the postmasters of all classes of offices. Previous meetings held at New Orleans, Natchitoches, and Baton Rouge were well attended. It was stated that the meeting at Ville Platte was the first of a series of meetings that will be held in the various postal districts.

James L. Tremblay, president of the Louisiana Chapter, National Association of Postmasters, will be the main speaker at the meeting. He will discuss the problems of the postal service and the postmasters of all classes of offices.

Postmaster James W. Brown of Monroe and Mr. Arthur P. Gaudin, postmaster of Natchitoches, will be the main speakers at the meeting.

The P. O. meeting will be held at 11 a. m. in the post office building.

Port Of Cherbourg Is Expected Soon To Be In Allied Hands

Interpretation By Kirke L. Simpson

(Wide World War Analyst)

Bright prospects of attaining indicated immediate mark the first week-end of the Allied second-front invasion of continental Europe although decisive battles are yet to be fought.

There is every indication that the great port of Cherbourg at the tip of the Normandy peninsula may very soon be in Allied hands. That seems the initial Allied goal.

A well sheltered and equipped French harbor through which to pour weapons, tanks, guns and stores to establish an offensive front in France is the urgent need of General Eisenhower and his staff and Cherbourg would fill their present requirements.

Yet even accepting the view that the battle for Cherbourg is in reality the battle for Normandy, it gives neither friend nor foe any certain clue to larger Allied plans. There is no hint yet as to where and when the march to Berlin from the west will start. Until the Nazi war staff knows that it does not commit its full reserve resources to action. Those reserves will be strictly husbanded until General Eisenhower more fully shows his hand.

The next week's developments should prove up more definitely both the Allied purpose and the Nazi ability to meet the danger without resort to wholesale retreats in Russia, in the Balkans and in Italy to shorten front and conserve manpower. It is obvious, however, that a German retreat from the Italian peninsula is already in progress.

The fast Allied follow-up on the capture of Rome is filled, too, with deadly menace for the foe. He is in grave danger on seeing his armies cut apart in the center by the Allied drives up the Tiber and the Liri rivers northeast of Rome. Loss of the critical road and rail communication keys at which these spearheads are aimed could nip off the whole German front in Italy and put it against the Adriatic for annihilation.

Suggest It May Be Opening Blow Of Eastern Front Assault

LONDON, June 10.—(AP)—The Germans and the Finns said tonight that the Russians had launched a "general offensive" on the Karelian Isthmus of the Finnish front above Leningrad, and one Berlin commentator suggested that it might be the opening blow of a Soviet onslaught across the entire eastern front.

Moscow itself said "there were no important changes at the front" during the day. The broadcast Russian communiqué said 14 enemy planes were shot down Friday, but made no mention of any other action.

Berlin said there was accelerated action on five sectors of the eastern front in addition to the new action in Karelia.

From the bloody last front in Romania to the longest and most important theater, the assault was highlighted as the third anniversary of Hitler's June 22 invasion of Russia is approached, and

Allied Air Power Sweeps Back Into Support Of Invasion

BETTER WEATHER ENABLES HEAVY BOMBERS TO RAID

By Austin Bealmeur
SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, Sunday, June 11.—(AP)—Allied air power swept back into action in support of the invasion yesterday, establishing bases on the beachheads in France, and it was announced today, United States fighter commands alone sent nearly 2,000 planes into the sky.

Clearing weather enabled heavy bombers to pour across the channel again after a 15-hour lull and Allied planes of all types blasted German troop concentrations and tanks and big gun positions as well as rail and highway transport.

Liberators dumped heavy loads of explosives behind the battle zone in both Normandy and Brittany and the tireless Marauder medium bombers made three attacks during the day.

An indication that the assault was being continued through the night came as the Paris radio suspended at midnight and Berlin broadcast warnings of nuisance raiders penetrating into western Germany.

(The Hungarian radio also left the air early in the night, the federal communications commission reported.) The German air force still avoided a show-down, but several aerial battles developed.

The Eighth air force listed ten German planes shot down and 21 American planes missing while the Ninth air force announced at least six of the enemy shot down and five United States planes missing.

The first planes to take advantage of the newly constructed landing strips—whose existence placed Allied aircraft in action from French soil for the first time since 1940—were American C-47 troop carriers which were used to fly wounded back to Britain.

They landed on one of the three

VETS' BENEFIT PLAN APPROVED

Joint Congressional Committee Settles All Differences

WASHINGTON, June 10.—(AP)—A joint congressional committee settled all its differences today and unanimously approved a broad legislative program of benefits for the veterans of this war.

Expected ratification of the compromise next week will send the legislation to the White House for presidential action. An agreement had been made to lay it before the Senate Monday and the House Tuesday or Thursday.

Under the bill, men and women returning from the war will be entitled to hospitalization, educational assistance, aid in getting jobs and unemployment benefits.

FIRST AMERICAN DEAD FROM FRANCE BURIED IN BRITAIN

By Howard Cowan
BROOKWOOD AMERICAN CEMETERY, England, June 10.—(AP)—The first American dead from the terrible battle across the channel tested to-night in Britain.

Boys of 18 covered in shrapnel, a British soldier lay in the front of a tank, his body a mass of wounds, his face a mask of death.

As a double column of officers and enlisted men, led by five chaplains, approached in a slow march the British soldier lay in the front of a tank, his body a mass of wounds, his face a mask of death.

Another was a flier, a P-38 pilot from his base somewhere in England, who had been shot down and was lying in the front of a tank, his body a mass of wounds, his face a mask of death.

There was nothing to mark this as anything but another military funeral, but it seemed to drive home, with cruel sharpness, the progress of the war on the French coast.

With Capt. Sumner Johnson, United States Navy, a force chaplain of the British Army, I drove to the cemetery. It was the first time I had seen the world. Here the American dead from the first World War, here the gently rolling hills

German Broadcast Places Americans Near Montebourg, Only 15 Miles South Of Cherbourg, As Nazis Withdraw

WITH AMERICAN TROOPS IN FRANCE, June 10.—(AP)—American soldiers surged forward all along this beachhead front east of the Vire river today, and patrols made contact with beachhead forces west of the Vire.

By James M. Long

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, Sunday, June 11.—(AP)—United States troops smashed a third of the way across the Normandy peninsula yesterday in a drive to seal off the prize port of Cherbourg and captured two towns and a handful of villages under cover of Allied fighters striking from newly-seized airfields in France.

A German broadcast placed the Americans near Montebourg, only 15 miles southeast of Cherbourg, after the Germans had withdrawn to "shortened defense lines."

Allied headquarters bulletin No. 10 issued just before midnight said "Allied progress continues along the whole of the beachhead." This meant that the American, British and Canadian troops now were attacking heavily along a 50-mile stretch between Caen in the east and Montebourg in the northwest.

A dispatch from the front disclosed that the Americans, with artillery support, had begun striking inland Friday after using the first three days to secure their beachheads and establish contact with the British-Canadian forces in the Bayeux sector, east of the expanded 35-mile-wide American front. The Americans gained six miles in their first smash inland from the sea, and veteran troops were spearheading the attack, the dispatch said.

The Americans under the small but valuable port of Isigny, 32 miles southeast of Cherbourg, toppled Treveries eight miles east of Isigny, and slashed "in several places" the main Paris railway leading into Cherbourg.

Heavy fighting raged at Carant, N. Bradley captured the small but valuable port of Isigny, 32 miles southeast of Cherbourg, toppled Treveries eight miles east of Isigny, and slashed "in several places" the main Paris railway leading into Cherbourg.

Severe fighting with strong enemy armored units also flamed through the fifth day in the Caen area of the British-Canadian sector. A front dispatch said Allied artillerymen had taken up positions in a struggle for a ridge commanding Caen, and that engineers had been partly successful in the setting of a tank trap against reinforced Nazi panzer units there.

"In the Cherbourg peninsula our advance patrols are west of the main railway in several places," the Allied communiqué said.

The apparent immediate objective of the American troops striking in the Montebourg area, a Vichy broadcast said, was to capture the communications hub of Cherbourg. Vichy is only 16 miles southeast of the big port.

With more than 5,000 German prisoners now taken, Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery, Allied ground commander, has established advance headquarters in France and has visited the troops in the front lines. He was reported well satisfied with developments.

The British and Ninth United States army forces flow nearly 200 sorties each day in their relentless battle to clear the way for a drive through the Normandy and beyond. German troops and tanks moving up to the battle area were prime targets for these planes, some of which loaded their explosives from a height of only 100 feet.

There was German fighter opposition, but the Nazis still showed a sky-ward glance. The two United States

RAYVILLE MAN HELD IN GAS STAMP CASE

Curtis Nichols, operator of a tank concern at Rayville, La., was charged in federal court here today with possessing, using and transferring gasoline coupons and a C-2 gasoline ration coupon, enough for 1,330 gallons of fuel in the first case of its kind filed in the western district of Louisiana.

The complaint, filed in Monroe, was based on authority of United States District Attorney Malcolm Lafargue, who acted under the second war powers act setting up OPA regulations.

Nichols posted $2,000 bail and his case is scheduled for the next term of court at Monroe.

Federal agents reported that Nichols and used his bogus tickets at various filling stations in Rayville and vicinity to obtain gasoline for his tank.

Further investigation is being made by government officials in an attempt to locate the source of the counterfeit gasoline ration coupons.

To Assemble At 11 A. M. For Area Meeting; To Discuss Problems

The fourth of a series of district meetings of postmasters will be held in Monroe on Sunday, June 11, at 11 a. m. according to P. F. The main purpose of the meeting is to discuss certain problems which have arisen affecting the postal service and the postmasters of all classes of offices. Previous meetings held at Crowley, Natchitoches, and Baton Rouge were very well attended. It was pointed out that post offices are called upon to render so many services that are non-postal, that the regular postal services are inconvenienced.

James L. Treadway, president of the Louisiana chapter, National Association of Postmasters, will be the principal speaker. Mr. Treadway is postmaster at Alexandria and has a wide knowledge of postal problems of interest to postmasters of all classes of offices.

Postmaster James G. Wooten of Monroe and Mrs. Annie F. Gambrell, postmistress of Minden and vice-president of the Postmasters Association are scheduled to address the gathering. Over 250 postmasters have been invited to attend.

UNDERGROUND SPRINGS TO ACTION ALL OVER FRANCE

By Ned Nordness

LONDON, June 10.—(AP)—French resistance to the Germans is rising, with sabotage and insurrection all over France, it was learned at Allied headquarters tonight.

Every French village, it was declared, offers information, medical assistance and any other possible help to the Allied forces.

Although the Allied high command was withholding for the strategic moment its instruction to the underground to strike all-out for the liberation of the country, front-line dispatches and continental reports told of multiplying blows against the Nazis. Unrest also was reported in the German Reich itself.

While some observers were inclined to be conservative in their estimates of these reports—which seeped out of the Netherlands and northern Italy as well as France and Germany—it was conceded that the invasion of Normandy had inspired increasing sabotage behind the French lines.

The most sanguine reports came to the French Press Service in London. These said French patriots were engaged not only in widespread sabotage but were fighting pitched battles with occupation troops deep behind the German lines.

The French Press Service said patriots were engaging more than 2,000 Germans in the Vosges district in a battle in which they had captured more than 500 Nazis. It also reported fighting at Bouge and Macon, which lie near the Haute Savoie, a center for the fighting French maquis.

Partisans also attacked Germans in Brittany, "killing about 20 and taking supplies," the agency reported, while in the North department they have cut three canals, and in the Ain department have destroyed 50 locomotives and slashed electric and telephone lines.

The Algiers radio said the French underground had dynamited railways between Paris and Normandy and Brittany, delaying German troop movements to the front.

USED CAR PRICE CEILINGS FIXED

WASHINGTON, June 10.—(AP)—Price ceilings for all used passenger automobiles, under consideration by the Office of Price Administration for over a year, go into effect July 10 at levels generally of January, 1944.

Price Administrator Chester Bowles, announcing the new regulation at a news conference today, said the ceilings would roll back prevailing prices an average of 10 per cent. The measure covers sales by private owners as well as dealers.

The regulation fixes maximum prices for 23 makes and about 6,000 models manufactured from 1937 through 1942. Ceilings for 1942 models are the same as maximum prices for new passenger cars as of February 29, 1944, while prices for 1937-41 models are fixed at January, 1944, levels.

For older cars, the price is held to that established for the nearest comparable 1937 model.

Prices will vary, as they have done in normal times, in three geographical price zones established. They will be lowest in Region A which includes all states east of the Mississippi river, highest in Region C comprising Washington, Oregon, California, Nevada and Arizona, and about half-way between the two levels in Region B, covering the rest of the country.

Typical prices are $990 for a 1942 Ford V-8 deluxe four-door sedan sold "as is" in Region A, $1,025 in Region B, and $1,065 in Region C. For warranted cars, the ceilings in respective areas are $1,238, $1,281 and $1,331.

The ceiling on a 1937 Chevrolet master deluxe four-door sedan will be $340 "as is" in Region A, $400 in Region B, and $470 in Region C. Warranted prices are $440, $500, and $585.

The regulation permits additions to ceiling prices for extra equipment, such as $10 for any heater and $20 for any radio.

BIG AUCTION BOND SALE IS PLANNED

JONESBORO, La., June 10.—(Special)—A giant fifth war bond auction sale is planned for Jonesboro on Monday, with music being played by the 86th division band from Camp Livingston. The public will assemble on the front of the Jackson parish courthouse, Monday at 8 p. m. following a parade in which civic leaders will participate.

An auctioneer of ability will direct the sale and it is hoped to start off the campaign in bigger and better manner than has ever been done here before.

VETS' BENEFIT PLAN APPROVED

Joint Congressional Committee Settles All Differences

WASHINGTON, June 10.—(AP)—A joint congressional committee settled all its differences today and unanimously approved a broad legislative program of benefits for the veterans of this war.

Expected ratification of the compromise next week will send the legislation to the White House for presidential action. Arrangements have been made to lay it before the Senate Monday and the House Tuesday or Thursday.

Under the bill, men and women returning from the war will be entitled to hospitalization, educational assistance, aid in getting jobs and unemployment.

FIRST AMERICAN DEAD FROM FRANCE BURIED IN BRITAIN

By Howard Cowan

BROOKWOOD AMERICAN CEMETERY, England, June 10.—(AP)—The first American dead from the terrible battle across the channel rested tonight beneath British soil.

Rows of flag-covered caskets of brown, polished wood lay at the bottom of mass graves opened by a steel-jawed steam shovel.

As a double column of officers and enlisted men led by five chaplains approached in a slow march, the English operator of the steam shovel stood silently in his cab, his hand clutching his cap, his black hair blowing in the wind.

There was nothing to mark this as anything but another military funeral, but it seemed to drive home with cruel sharpness the increased tempo of war on the French coast.

With Capt. Sumner Johnson, United States Ninth air force chaplain of Terryville, Conn., I drove to this cemetery. It must be one of the most beautiful in the world. Here lie American dead from the first World war. Here in the gently-rolling hills

PREDDY CHILD IS KILLED BY TRUCK

Driver Held Without Charge Pending Investigation Of Tragedy

Roland Marshall Preddy, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall B. Preddy, 612 North Seventh street, West Monroe, was instantly killed yesterday evening when he was run over by a heavily loaded truck in the street near his home.

Police Chief Jeff Caldwell, West Monroe, who conducted an investigation of the case, said the truck involved in the accident was operated by Norma Pounds, 19 North Little Rock, Ark., and that the truck was owned by C. Hobson Dunn, pipe line stringer with a branch office in West Monroe.

Pounds is being held without charge, Chief Caldwell reported, pending the result of the coroner's inquest which Dr. J. T. French, coroner, announced would be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Witnesses of the tragedy were quoted by Chief Caldwell as saying the child had run into the street under the side of the truck and had been knocked down by the rear wheels. It was also said that the truck was not traveling at an excessive speed.

The truck was carrying a 12,000-pound load of huge pipes being used in the construction of a cross-country pipe line which at the present time is being constructed north and west of West Monroe, the police chief said.

Chief Caldwell described the truck as having a trailer attachment that extended 20 or more feet behind the truck proper and it was the wheels of the trailer that hit the child. The

RAYVILLE MAN HELD IN GAS STAMP CASE

Curtis Nichols, operator of a taxi concern at Rayville, La., was charged in federal court here today with possessing, using and transferring approximately 266 counterfeit C-2 gasoline ration coupons—enough for 1,330 gallons of fuel—in the first case of its kind filed in the western district of Louisiana.

The complaint, filed in Monroe, was issued on authority of United States District Attorney Malcolm Lafargue, who acted under the second war powers act setting up OPA regulations.

Nicholson posted $2,000 bail and his case is scheduled for the next term of court at Monroe.

Federal agents reported that Nichols had used the bogus tickets at various filling stations in Rayville and vicinity to obtain gasoline for his taxi.

Further investigation is being made by government officials in an attempt to locate the source of the counterfeit gasoline ration coupons.

INDUCTEES TO BE IN COMMON POOL

Will Not Be Earmarked For Army Or Navy After Exams

WASHINGTON, June 10.—(AP)—Selective service announced tonight that after July 1 inductees no longer will be earmarked for either the army or the navy after their pre-induction physical examinations but will be placed in a common pool to be drawn upon according to the needs of the services.

The revised procedure will enable local boards to continue to fill each call by selecting available volunteers and non-fathers ahead of fathers, and induct men in accordance with their order number, as provided by law, the headquarters statement said.

Selective service also instructed local boards not to send up for induction any men who have been classified as fit for limited service only, unless ordered to do so by the state selective service director. The army has been accepting limited service registrants up to five per cent of the monthly call. None has been accepted by the navy.

Since January 1, men who were accepted have been assigned to one branch or the other at the induction station. Manpower demands of the individual services governed the date of an inductee's order to report.

Changing needs have made it impossible to withdraw men from the army and navy pools at an even rate, selective service headquarters said. In other words, fathers might be taken by the navy while non-fathers in the same community were not being taken by the army.

After July 1, all registrants ordered to report for induction will go to an armed forces induction station, where they will be assigned to the army or the navy and will be inducted immediately. At least 21 days will elapse between the pre-induction physical examination and the induction, as at present.

Chicken fat can be combined in equal portions with milder flavored shortening to be used in cakes, cookies, desserts or breads.

RECEIVES AWARD

First Lt. Carlton H. McConnell, of Mangham, with the Eighth Air Force in England, recently was awarded two oak leaf clusters. Each was awarded for "exceptionally meritorious achievement, while participating in five separate bomber combat missions over enemy occupied continental Europe." The citation went on to say that "the courage, coolness and skill displayed by this officer upon these occasions reflect great credit upon himself and the armed forces of the United States." The oak leaf clusters were awarded on March 18 and 28, and were in addition to the air medal previously awarded. Lieutenant McConnell is the younger son of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. McConnell of Mangham.

URGE APPOINTED SUPERINTENDENT

BATON ROUGE, La., June 10.—(AP)—Parent-Teacher Association state and district officials announced tonight they had asked the state house of representatives, scheduled to reconvene Sunday night, to support a minority favorable report on a senate bill that would make the state superintendent of education appointive by the state board rather than elected by popular vote.

Mrs. Roger P. Sharp, New Orleans, president of the state organization, said its members were "disturbed" at opposition to the bill, and cited its senate passage, support by the administration and state board of education and others.

She was joined in the statement by Mrs. Fred G. Benton, Baton Rouge, 11th P-T-A district director, who said the bill had been reported unfavorably by the house education committee but would be supported on the house floor by a committee minority, probably Sunday or Monday.

Mrs. Sharp said the measure apparently was not opposed by the State Teachers Association, and that incumbent Supt. John E. Cox in answering a questionnaire sent primary candidates last December had answered "a constitutional amendment

DEWEY IS STILL BELOW MAJORITY

Holds 391 Pledged And Claimed Votes With 529 Required

(By Associated Press)
Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's pledged and publicly claimed delegate strength for the Republican presidential nomination wound up yesterday (Saturday) at 391, or 138 short of the required majority, as Nevada named a six-vote delegation to complete the party's national convention delegate roster of 1,057.

Next in a field of eight avowed, publicly receptive and "silent" possibilities is Gov. John W. Bricker with 65, while 478 delegates are unpledged and unclaimed by supporters of either.

Both the Dewey and Bricker camps expect generous aid from the free and unclaimed delegates constituting nearly half the convention total. These delegates are spread over 30 states and Hawaii.

Dewey lieutenants say he will get from this bloc more than enough votes to give him a first ballot nomination. Bricker asserted there will be no decision on the initial roll call of states and his managers estimate he will enter the convention with between 250 and 300 votes. They also assert the Ohioan will have greater secondary strength than anybody else.

Bricker, in New York, said, without mentioning Dewey by name, that "no one has a majority at this time." His campaign will continue, Bricker declared, "until the ballots are counted."

Dewey's delegate support, pledged and otherwise declared for him, comes from 24 states, Alaska, Puerto Rico and the District of Columbia. Bricker's is spread over six and the 34 votes for Lt. Com. Harold E. Stassen are in three states.

The remaining five men mentioned for a place on the national ticket have only single state support, but two of these—Govs. Earl Warren of California and Dwight Griswold of Nebraska—have freed their pledged votes in those states.

Subject to change in state delegation caucuses, here is the convention delegate line-up based on state actions, state leaders' announcements and delegate statements:

Total convention votes, 1,057. Needed to nominate, 529.

should be passed providing for a completely elective state board of education making it the duty of this board to elect a state superintendent . . . Mrs. Sharp said the proposed amendment also had the support of "a great number of parish superintendents, and said 'we are at a loss to understand how the house committee ventured to return an unfavorable report.' She asked that the house vote to submit the measure to popular vote. "In a true Democratic way."

the Protestant service with scripture. There was a prayer by Lt. Ford Gilbert, Long Beach, Calif. The raw wind gusting from the skies drowned out the words and we could only catch parts:

"I am the Resurrection . . ."
Capt. Frank H. Lash, navy chaplain of 1312 Axtell street, Clovis, N. M., said a prayer and read from the Bible. Capt. John A. Moore, Lake Helen, Fla., and Lt. Dezi Carty, 28 Edgemoor avenue, New York City, a Negro, concluded the service.

We stood at attention and saluted while a firing squad set the hills echoing with three volleys.

Cpl. Joseph Ferlazzo, 100 Daisy street, Clearfield, Pa., sounded taps. Swelling and then fading as the wind rose and died came the answering taps from the far side of the hill, where the flag stood at half-mast before the white chapel with its ivy-clad columns. They came from the bugle of Sgt. Herbert E. Thompson, 17 Bellevue avenue, Iliou, N. Y.

We marched away, eyes straight ahead and the silence broken only by the cadenced crunch of heels into gravel walks. The flag still was at half-mast as we climbed into our jeeps and trucks, and an officer explained:

"The flag remains at half-mast so long as there are unburied dead inside the cemetery."

I took one last look as we headed toward the gate. The English girl stood at the edge of the still-open grave, her hands shoved deep into her pockets.

The steam shovel wheeled ponderously and clawed up a scoopful of sodden earth.

chief said Pounds had told him he had seen the boy standing near the curb as the cab part of his truck passed the scene, and that the child had run out into the path of the trailer wheels as he passed.

The accident occurred about 5:45 p. m. in front of a grocery store operated by the child's grandfather, H. G. Preddy, 610 North Seventh. The truck was traveling north, it was said, and stopped immediately after the child was hit.

Dr. French said the boy had died instantly of a crushed chest and fractured skull.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon at 5 o'clock at the First Methodist Church of West Monroe with the Rev. P. M. Caraway officiating. Interment will follow in Halloway Cemetery under the direction of Mulhearn Funeral Home.

Besides his parents, the child is survived by a sister, Shirley Ann Preddy, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Preddy, West Monroe, and Mr. and Mrs. M. Trahan, Gilks. The father of the boy is a salesman for Hunt and Whitaker in Monroe.

BIG NAZI NAVAL EFFORT LIKELY

Submarine Power Concentrated Against Cross-Channel Lines

LONDON, June 10.—(AP)—After a number of unsuccessful attempts to cut gashes in the greatest naval battle armada in the world's history, German channel forces were concentrating their submarine power today against Allied cross-channel lifelines, and American officers were expecting a crucial struggle in the next few days.

In the latest of the slim German navy's unprofitable forays into invasion waters, a light force of British coastal vessels sank four out of seven heavily-armed Trawlers in two skirmishes off Holland early today, with the loss of one motor torpedo boat and two casualties.

While a German destroyer of a previous engagement lay smoldering wreckage on the French coast, Allied warships kept up their airtight collaboration with the air force to keep the Germans' U-boats under water and ineffective, and the armies' reinforcements and supplies streamed into the Seine Bay, "greatest sea terminus the world has ever seen established for purposes of battle," with the precision and regularity of rail traffic, a fleet spokesman said.

The biggest obstacle for the fleet thus far has been the weather—not Nazi sea units. Allied warships roamed the channel at will, and German bombing at the Seine anchorage was described as "spasmodic."

Rear Admiral Alan G. Kirk, aboard the flagship Augusta, was anticipating a desperate German effort to halt the continuous strengthening of Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's advancing and unyielding units, and believed the struggle would come soon, a correspondent aboard the ship reported.

The loss of a second American destroyer in the invasion was disclosed in a dispatch from the channel naval forces. No details were given, but these two ships were said to be the U. S. navy's only losses up to the fourth day after the invasion landings.

The Berlin radio reported that Allied cruisers and destroyers were engaged by Nazi units in violent battle in the western part of the channel. The broadcast said that "one enemy cruiser and destroyer were damaged and also one German destroyer."

INDUCTEES TO BE IN COMMON POOL

Will Not Be Earmarked For Army Or Navy After Exams

WASHINGTON, June 10.—(AP)—Selective service announced tonight that after July 1 inductees no longer will be earmarked for either the army or the navy after their pre-induction physical examinations but will be placed in a common pool to be drawn upon according to the needs of the services.

"The revised procedure will enable local boards to continue to fill each call by selecting available volunteers and non-fathers ahead of fathers, and induct men in accordance with their order number, as provided by law," the headquarters statement said.

Selective service also instructed local boards not to send up for induction any men who have been classified as fit for limited service only, unless ordered to do so by the state selective service director.

After January 1, men who were assigned have been assigned to one branch or the other at the induction station. Manpower demands of the individual services governed the date of an inductee's order to report.

Changing needs have made it impossible to withdraw men from the army and navy pools at an even rate, selective service headquarters said. In other words, fathers might be taken by the navy while non-fathers in the same community were not being taken by the army.

After July 1, all registrants ordered to report for induction will go to an armed forces induction station, where they will be assigned to the army or the navy and will be inducted immediately. At least 21 days will elapse between the pre-induction physical examination and the induction, as at present.

URGE APPOINTED SUPERINTENDENT

BATON ROUGE, La., June 10.—(AP)—Parent-Teacher Association state and district officials announced tonight they had asked the state house of representatives, scheduled to reconvene Sunday night, to support a minority favorable report on a senate bill that would make the state superintendent of education appointive by the state board rather than elected by popular vote.

Mrs. Roger P. Sharp, New Orleans, president of the state organization, said its members were "disturbed" at opposition to the bill, and cited its senate passage, support by the administration and state board of education and others.

She was joined in the statement by Mrs. Fred G. Benton, Baton Rouge, 11th P. T. A. district director, who said the bill had been reported unfavorably by the house education committee but would be supported on the house floor by a committee minority, probably Sunday or Monday. Mrs. Sharp said the measure apparently was not opposed by the State Teachers Association, and that incumbent Supt. John E. DEWEY IS STILL BELOW MAJORITY

(By Associated Press) Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's pledged and publicly claimed delegate strength for the Republican presidential nomination wound up yesterday (Saturday) at 391, or 138 short of the required majority, as Nevada named a six-vote delegation to complete the party's national convention delegate roster of 1,057.

Next in a field of eight avowed, publicly receptive and "silent" possibilities is Gov. John W. Bricker with 65, while 478 delegates are uncommitted and unclaimed by supporters of either.

Both the Dewey and Bricker camps expect generous aid from the free and unclaimed delegates constituting nearly half the convention total. These delegates are spread over 30 states and Hawaii.

Dewey lieutenants say he will get from this bloc more than enough votes to give him a first ballot nomination. Bricker asserted there will be no decision on the initial roll call of states and his managers estimate he will enter the convention with between 250 and 300 votes. They also assert the Ohioan will have greater secondary strength than anybody else.

Bricker, in New York, said, without mentioning Dewey by name, that "no one has a majority at this time." His campaign will continue, Bricker declared, "until the ballots are counted."

Dewey's delegate support, pledged and otherwise declared for him, comes from 24 states, Alaska, Puerto Rico and the District of Columbia. Bricker's is spread over six and the 34 votes for Lt. Com. Harold E. Stassen are in three states.

The remaining five men mentioned for a place on the national ticket have only single state support, but two of these—Govs. Earl Warren of California and Dwight Griswold of Nebraska—have freed their pledged votes in those states.

Subject to change in state delegation caucuses, here is the convention delegate line-up based on state actions, state leaders' announcements and delegate statements:

Total convention votes, 1,057. Needed to nominate, 529. should be passed providing for a completely elective state board of education making it the duty of this board to elect a state superintendent. Mrs. Sharp said the proposed amendment also had the support of "a great number of parish superintendents, and said "we are at a loss to understand how the house committee ventured to return an unfavorable report." She asked that the house vote to submit the measure to popular vote, "in a true Democratic way."

the Protestant service with scripture. There was a prayer by Lt. Ford Gilbert, Long Beach, Calif. The raw wind gusting from the skies drowned out the words and we could only catch parts:

"I am the Resurrection . . . " Capt. Frank H. Lash, navy chaplain of 1512 Astell street, Clovis, N. M., said a prayer and read from the Bible. Capt. John A. Moore, Lake Helen, Fla., and Lt. Dezil Carty, 28 Edgcombe avenue, New York City, a Negro, concluded the service.

We stood at attention and saluted while a firing squad set the hills echoing with three volleys.

Cpl. Joseph Ferlazzo, 100 Daisy street, Clearfield, Pa., sounded taps. Swelling and then fading as the wind rose and died came the answering tape from the far side of the hill, where the flag stood at half-mast before the white chapel with its ivy-clad columns. They came from the bugle of Sgt. Herbert E. Thompson, 17 Bellevue avenue, Ilion, N. Y.

We marched away, eyes straight ahead and the silence broken only by the cadenced crunch of heels into gravel walks. The flag still was at half-mast as we climbed into our jeeps and trucks, and an officer explained:

"The flag remains at half-mast so long as there are unburied dead in the cemetery."

I took one last look as we headed toward the gate. The English girl stood at the edge of the still-open grave, her hands shoved deep into her pockets.

The steam shovel wheeled ponderously and clawed up a scoopful of sodden earth.

chief said Pounders had told him he had seen the boy standing near the curb as the cab part of his truck passed the scene, and that the child had run out into the path of the trailer wheels as he passed.

The accident occurred about 5:45 p. m. in front of a grocery store operated by the child's grandfather, H. G. Preddy, 610 North Seventh. The truck was traveling north, it was said, and stopped immediately after the child was hit.

Dr. French said the boy had died instantly of a crushed chest and fractured skull.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon at 5 o'clock at the First Methodist Church of West Monroe with the Rev. P. M. Caraway officiating. Interment will follow in Haslebury Cemetery under the direction of Mulhearn Funeral Home.

Besides his parents, the child is survived by a sister, Shirley Ann Preddy, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Preddy, West Monroe, and Mr. and Mrs. M. Trahan, Gillis. The father of the boy is a salesman for Hunt and Whitaker in Monroe.

BIG NAZI NAVAL EFFORT LIKELY

Submarine Power Concentrated Against Cross-Channel Lines

LONDON, June 10.—(AP)—After a number of unsuccessful attempts to cut gashes in the greatest naval battle armada in the world's history, German channel forces were concentrating their submarine power today against Allied cross-channel lifelines, and American officers were expecting a crucial struggle in a big German naval effort within the next few days.

In the latest of the slim German navy's unprofitable forays into invasion waters, a light force of British coastal vessels sank four out of seven heavily-armed Trawlers in two skirmishes off Holland early today, with the loss of one motor torpedo boat and two casualties.

While a German destroyer of a previous engagement lay smoldering wreckage on the French coast, Allied warships kept up their airtight collaboration with the air force to keep the Germans' U-boats under water and ineffective, and the armies' reinforcements and supplies streamed into the Seine Bay, "greatest sea terminus the world has ever seen established for purposes of battle," with the precision and regularity of rail traffic, a front report said.

The biggest obstacle for the fleet thus far has been the weather—no Nazi sea units. Allied warships roamed the channel at will, and German bombing at the Seine anchorage was described as "spasmodic."

Rear Admiral Alan G. Kirk, aboard the flagship Augusta, was anticipating a desperate German effort to halt the continuous strengthening of Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's advancing and unyielding units, and believed the struggle would come soon, a correspondent aboard the ship reported.

The loss of a second American destroyer in the invasion was disclosed in a dispatch from the channel naval forces. No details were given, but these two ships were said to be the U. S. navy's only losses up to the fourth day after the invasion landings.

The Berlin radio reported that Allied cruisers and destroyers were engaged by Nazi units in violent battle in the western part of the channel. The broadcast said that "one enemy cruiser and destroyer were damaged and also one German destroyer."

'GERONIMO' IS CRY IN AIR INVASION

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, June 10.—(AP)—America's first two airborne divisions—the 82nd and 101st—were revealed tonight as leading the invasion of Normandy with their traditional battle cry "Geronimo." It was the third assault for the 82nd which spearheaded the attacks on Sicily and Salerno. When the United States army was enlarged in 1942, the 82nd was reactivated in March under the command of Maj. Gen. Omar N. Bradley.

SGT. ROLLINSON IS COMMENDED

Member Of Air Echelon Assisted In Italian Invasion

WITH THE 12TH A. A. F.—“For consistent and proficient outstanding performance of duty,” S/Sgt. Bruce H. Rollinson, aircraft sheet metalist and welder specialist of the Twelfth air force fighter-bomber group, has been commended by his squadron commander.

Sergeant Rollinson, R. F. D. 3, Monroe, La., a graduate of Ouachita High School, enlisted in the army in October, 1941. He received his training at Barksdale Field, La., Chanute Field, Ill., and Savannah Air Base, Ga. Before sailing for overseas duty in October, 1942, he was stationed at Rentschler Field, Conn.

During the Middle East campaign, his squadron was under command of the Ninth air force and attached to the British Eighth army. From Egypt to Tunis the squadron operated as the desert air force in North Africa supplying “air cover” for General Montgomery’s forces, eliminating the victorious campaign by destroying 15 enemy aircraft in a single mission while operating off Cape Bon in Tunisia.

The Sicilian campaign then followed with further victories credited to the squadron. As an advanced echelon, it assisted in the invasion of Italy, being transferred to the 12th A. A. F.

“It was largely through the efforts of Sergeant Rollinson and his mates that our planes were always in condition to fly,” stated the squadron commander.

Sergeant Rollinson’s wife, Mrs. Anna Mae Rollinson, lives at the home address.

Decisive Action

The war in Europe has entered a period of decisive action that can have only one ending—the surrender of Germany. Preparing for years, the Allied high command waited until everything, down to the most minute detail, was in readiness before invading France.

Relentless air war for months had battered Germany and German-held military objectives. Russia had pushed the Nazis back a thousand miles, the U-boat menace had been licked. The fall of Rome and the disordered retreat of the Nazis northward in Italy was the psychological moment seized by General Eisenhower to unleash Allied military might against the dazed Nazi war machine in France.

Whether Hitler succumbs to his mounting military weaknesses this summer or fights delaying actions in blind desperation will determine the length of the war in Europe and the number of casualties. It can not affect the outcome in the slightest degree.

Following the capture of Rome by the Allied forces under General Clark, taking of Paris will be in the nature of an anti-climax, as will be the occupation of Berlin following the final capitulation of Germany. As a prelude to the invasion of Northern Europe, the winning of Rome was a prestige triumph of first importance. The Allies in Italy defeated the best that the German high command could send against them.

Within a relatively short time the United States government has assembled the most powerful land, sea and air forces ever assembled under the American flag. Plans are in effect to bring the total strength of the overseas forces to 5,000,000 by the end of the year. Crushing of Hitler may make this unnecessary.

The United Nations are now in a position to achieve a total victory in all that the term implies. The weapons and the men are available to achieve complete victory over the Germans and the Japanese. All that remains is to drive home the advantage.

The enemies of civilization know only one language—the one they speak themselves. It is the language of force, of flame and steel, of blood and destruction. In terms which they can understand, terms which mean crushing defeat on the field of battle and helplessness at home, the Germans and the Japs must be impressed with the fact that they were not destined to rule the world.

THE HOUSE

Democrats have 216 seats in the House of Representatives and the Republicans 210. Ten years ago there were 333 Democrats and only 89 Republicans. Since then there has been a steady closing of the gap resulting in an almost even division of representation today. Republicans expect to have definite control after November.

Of the seats held by the major parties, 86 are "marginal." That is, they were won in the last election by less than 55 per cent of the major party vote. Of these the Democrats have 37 and the Republicans have 49. Forty-four of these 86 marginal seats were won by less than 52 per cent of the popular vote and 22 of the 44 by less than 51 per cent of the vote. A swing of less than 1 per cent of the vote in a few districts this year will give the Republicans a safe working majority in the House.

If a Republican president is elected, he is sure to have a Republican House. But the election of a Democratic president would not necessarily mean the election of a Democratic House. If President Roosevelt is renominated, he may plead with the voters to give him a Democratic majority in Congress.

A similar plea by President Wilson aroused resentment so widespread that it was a major factor in greasing the political toboggan for the professor.

PRICE PRIVILEGES

Most Americans pretend to disbelieve in price control except as a wartime measure and agree that the sooner it can be done away with the better. It is therefore strange to observe the maneuvering being engaged in down Washington way around the general proposition to extend price control and stabilization laws beyond their expiration date of June 30.

One group in Congress proposes amendments to aid small manufacturers, represented as being threatened with extinction by rising costs and price ceilings. Another group wants to safeguard farm earnings by tying them to new type and higher parity ceilings. Organized labor wants to abolish the formula that has frozen the pay of white collar workers near the pre-war level, and that of the horny-handed sons of the war factories at double the pre-war figures.

Those who oppose prolonged price control should become voiciferous in opposing all of these proposals. Any group seeking favors under price control does so in the belief that control will be extended far into post-war years. And a favored group will fight all the harder against relinquishment of the favor.

If America wants to return to free enterprise with all speed when peace comes, it will oppose a price control law containing special privilege provisions.

No day is so rare as a day in June to Hitler, who fears any one may be his last.

One hundred pounds of waste paper will make 1,470 boxes for emergency lifeboat rations. Save every scrap.

Whiskey is being made from potatoes, but so far there is no announcement concerning number of cocktails to the hill.

Seven per cent of persons interviewed in a recent poll said they had no opinion. Surely there are more married men than that.

Name of new insecticide, dichlorodiphenyl-trichloroethane, should awe the most ambitious mosquito.

Jimmie Fidler IN HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, June 10.—While cheering the news that studios and labor unions are signing contracts which guarantee the return of ex-movie workers, now in the armed forces, to their pre-war jobs, I question the practical application of that policy where creative work, such as acting, directing, or writing, is concerned.

Unquestionably, the system will be workable in the case of the carpenter or office worker, to cite obvious examples. Theirs is routine work that one man can do as well as another. It is only justice that such men, who sacrificed their jobs to fight for their country, be given preference when they come home.

But a different set of values must be applied to artists, who are, when all is said and done, the workers who determine the quality of a finished picture. Hollywood, in order to continue production, has had to replace the hundreds now in uniform, and honesty compels the admission that in many instances, the recruits have proved more skillful than the men they replaced.

Despite sentiment, despite loyalty and despite the most binding contracts, studios must maintain quality or go out of business. It is inevitable that the creative worker who will get the job after the war will be the man best qualified to hold it.

Speaking of movie companies and their dealings with men and women in uniform, I want to applaud Warner Brothers for a laudable gesture. For the past year, service men and women have been admitted to their theaters at greatly reduced prices, and, in several localities, free of charge. Many other theater owners just as able to pursue that policy have failed to do so, and some have criticized Warner Brothers for their generous practice. Perhaps it has been in the light of the immediate present, but millions of G. I. s who have benefited will not forget Warner Brothers is laying up a profit in good will that should be a nice asset when the shooting's over.

I chuckled the other day over an announcement from a major studio that Arturo de Cordova will be starred in "Captain Fracasse, the masterpiece of the famous French novelist."

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla.—A letter from Henry today which has made me very happy. The last letter I'd had from him said that he had only one letter from me since he had been gone. Here is a condensation of his letter.

ist, Emile Gautier." If I remember French literature correctly, Emile Gautier was a paleographer and historian. The novelist was Theophile Gautier. But I suppose I shouldn't be persnickety enough to call attention to a mistake so natural. Studio publicity seldom pays much attention to the man who writes the story that makes the picture possible.

Stimulating to the imagination is the head of a corporation which is pace-making in the television field. It is only justice that such men, who sacrificed their jobs to fight for their country, be given preference when they come home.

AMENDMENTS TO OPA BILL DELAY

Six Hours Spent Without Reaching Bankhead Cotton Rider

WASHINGTON, June 10.—(AP)—Bogged down by more than a score of other amendments, the house spent six hours debating price control extension legislation today without even touching on such controversial subjects as the Bankhead cotton rider.

In its second consecutive Saturday session it disposed of only eight proposed changes before deciding to put off until next week a final vote on the bill continuing the price control law beyond its current expiration date of June 30.

Amendments tentatively approved all subject to roll-call votes later, deal with oil, subsidies to processors of agricultural products, court sales, reductions in ceiling prices on farm products, and the OPA's controversial "highest price line" regulation.

Voted down were proposals to give all retailers the benefit of lowest wholesale prices; to outlaw OPA penalties and sanctions not expressly authorized by law; to permit eviction of tenants who abuse rented property; and to exempt rough rice from price control.

The oil amendment, approved by a standing vote of 123 to 37, inserts a provision directing the OPA to order an increase of approximately 35 cents per barrel in crude prices. Its backers said it was necessary to keep petroleum production up with war-time consumption.

Representative Hartley, Republican, New Jersey, wrote the "highest price line" offered during a quiet period. Hartley urged it as essential to prevent smaller retailers from being forced out of business.

The amendment exempting court sales from OPA price ceilings was sponsored by Representative Springer, Republican, Indiana, who said existing OPA rules make it impossible for court agents in some states to make sales to the highest and best bidder.

An overwhelming voice vote accepted an amendment requiring OPA to give 15 days notice prior to the normal planting season before lowering price ceilings on agricultural commodities.

On motion of Representative Kleberg, Democrat, Texas, and by a standing vote of 83 to 38 the House adopted an amendment prohibiting the payment of subsidies to processors of agricultural products unless the processors give satisfactory evidence of having paid the producer a parity price. The amendment primarily affects processors of wheat, cattle and pigs.

Rejected, 86 to 39, was a proposal by Representative Rolph, Republican, Calif., to permit evictions of tenants from rented property in cases where there is proof of abuse of the property. Existing regulations, Rolph contended, frequently make it impossible for a landlord to evict an "obnoxious" tenant.

Administration leaders are marshaling their votes to beat down the Bankhead amendment approved yesterday.

HALLUCINATIONS ASSIST AGED MEN

NEW YORK, June 10.—The cases of two aged men who used their mental hallucinations both to prolong their lives and their usefulness to society were reported to the American Geriatrics Society today by Dr. Edward B. Allen, White Plains, N. Y.

Both were men of accomplishments. One was a successful inventor, the other had organized a university law school. The inventor was 79, the other 75.

The inventor had a worry neurosis. He challenged doctors to cure him, was gleeful when they failed.

"This patient's neurosis," said Dr. Allen, "undoubtedly contributed to his longevity. It enabled him to give sufficient attention to his health and not overdo in spite of his business success. His neurosis was his most valuable possession and gave him sufficient compensation for any feeling of inferiority."

His worries, at 79, put him in a hospital for mental treatment, where he recovered enough to return to business and when last heard from was attending a meeting of a zoological society.

The 75-year-old had married twice and confused his first and second wives, imagining often that the second was the first, a fact which gave him some satisfaction. He also imagined he was of illustrious royal parentage. The two delusions enabled him to build a defense against unpleasant realities of his personal life.

At the same time he remained sane in other respects and after his trip to a mental hospital at 75 recovered enough to leave and start writing a history. But for the protection of the delusions this man might have had a general mental deterioration.

Dr. Allen quoted statistics which predict that by 1980 one third of the population of the United States will be age 60 or more. The Geriatrics Society is a new medical and scientific organization to study the problems of aging.

SOLDIER-SCIENTISTS LANDED MONTHS AGO

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, June 10.—(AP)—Soldier-scientists landed secretly months ago on the beaches of Normandy paved the way for invasion troops, headquarters disclosed today.

Digging through old geology books in French, the scientists discovered that proposed invasion beaches which appeared sandy and well suited really had clay underneath which would bog down heavy equipment.

So the soldier-scientists were sent over in darkness and crawled on their stomachs for miles along the beaches making borings which proved the old books right.

Special equipment then was prepared and tested in England to overcome this problem.

Today by the Senate to the textile ceilings to a parity price for raw cotton and assure millers their operating costs plus "a reasonable profit." Some administration followers predicted a presidential veto if the house accepted the amendment.

SMALL POX AND SYMPTOMS TOLD

Dr. Mengis Outlines Disease Indications; How To Play Safe

By Dr. C. L. Mengis

It would be very easy to make a differential diagnosis of diseases if all cases adhered strictly to textbook descriptions—however, most physicians agree that it is very difficult to distinguish between a mild case of smallpox and a severe case of chicken pox in an adult, especially in a colored person. We have recently had here in Ouachita parish four and possibly five cases that have been diagnosed as discrete or mild smallpox, three of the cases occurring in the Calhoun vicinity, all colored, probably two of the cases being secondary contacts. One of these cases came to the Crippled Children's Clinic and sat for some time in the colored section, and it was only when it became time for him to be interviewed about the child he had brought in, that it was noticed that his face was filled with an eruption. He was sent home immediately in a private car and everybody, including the unit personnel, were vaccinated. These three Calhoun patients were all seen by Dr. Taylor, of Calhoun, who made the diagnosis and reported the disease, and over 300 persons were vaccinated very shortly afterwards.

One suspected case, living on Calypso, near Ninth street in Monroe, walked into our general disease clinic, with an eruption suggestive of smallpox, and he was isolated and a clinic held at the Colored High School. When there is a doubt as to the diagnosis, we play safe and assume that the disease is the most serious of the two and take whatever precautions are necessary.

Quite a few persons have made inquiries about the best time to be vaccinated against smallpox. It is now well recognized among health authorities, that every child should be vaccinated at three months of age, as has been compulsory in all British Dominions for fifty or more years. At this age, there has never been a case of encephalitis, or inflammation of the brain tissue, as sometimes rarely occurs in the adult—the child can not turn over so easily, so there is no danger of wounding the "back," and again the chances of becoming infected by scratching or contamination are very slight, and when we consider that in Great Britain and its colonies, that smallpox is practically unknown, where once the disease was so common that an adult person who had not had smallpox was scarcely known in the United Kingdom, and freedom from pox marks was used as a means of identification.

One hundred and fifty years ago, 10 out of every 100 deaths were caused by smallpox, and of every 100 children died before they were 10 years old. 33 and 1 out of smallpox—more than half of the people then living were scarred or disfigured, and it is estimated that 60,000,000 of the inhabitants of Europe died from smallpox in the 19th century. Inoculation was first practiced in India over 1,000 years before Christ, and passed into Europe by way of Constantinople, and among the Arabs, was called buying the smallpox, where articles of food were baited for so many pocks in exchange, and Lady Mary Montagu, the wife of the British ambassador to the Turkish court, introduced inoculation into England. However, inoculation from person to person, began to prove a menace to public health by the transmission of other diseases, and in May 1796, Edward Jenner had noticed that many persons who had had cowpox, afterwards resisted smallpox, and from a dairy maid infected with cowpox, he injected pus into the arm of a healthy boy, who, after a slight fever, vaccination, resisted several attempts to inoculate him for smallpox.

Jenner died on January 26, 1826, but lived long enough to see a complete triumph of his great discovery, and to know that it afforded protection against one of the most dreadful scourges of mankind. The following extract is quoted from his tombstone: "When this tomb hath been a resting place."

The great physician of the human race. Immortal Jenner! Whose gigantic mind brought life and health to more than half mankind. Let rescued infancy his worth proclaim.

And let our blessings on his honored name. And let our beauty drop one grateful tear. For beauty a trust friend has turned to grief.

Monogamous marriages, or epistemic marriages, are reported from the United States. We have recently had reported two cases of this nature in West of California, parents of which I am acting director of the health unit. Three cases were reported by Dr. Colwell of Columbia, and one of the patients a child of five months died in a few hours after the onset of the disease—the other child, I believe, is about seven years of age and is a very good looking child. Both of these cases are from the same place, and during the course of the disease child was vaccinated against smallpox.

We have a great number of evidence cases of this nature and are interested in health officers, the infection is usually in the discharge from the nose and mouth and sometimes by direct contact. The incubation period is from 7 to 14 days, sometimes longer. A severe case in children and young adults.

There is no vaccination as a protection, however, just recently a person has been vaccinated by the old method of inoculation with the dried lymph of a case of smallpox. Dr. Colwell says it is probably only in children that this thing is now common, and it could be a very serious disease if not for the infection might have spread.

We have a new book for the collection and importance of data, and since this program started, we have disposed of close to 1,000 worthless canines. We believe that there are yet about 2,000 dogs in Ouachita parish that have not been registered nor vaccinated—however, our program is on a permanent basis and we are picking up from 15 to 30 dogs daily, and with only one truck operating, it might be some time before we clean up. We are also picking up and impounding for observation by a veterinarian all dogs that have been bitten by suspected rabid dogs and are holding for observation every dog that has bitten a human. The lack of dogs roaming the streets of Monroe and West Monroe is quite noticeable. If your dog is impounded, and has never been vaccinated nor registered, you can redeem it on Tuesdays and Fridays at 4 p. m. at the dog pound near the incinerator—these hours are the only ones when a veterinarian will be available, and a fee of $3.00, $1.50 for impounding and $1.50 for vaccination registration, will have to be paid. If the dog has been registered, and the tag lost, and the dog is picked up, a fee of $1.50 is necessary. We keep all dogs five days unless the owner gives permission for immediate disposal—we do not go on private premises to collect dogs but, if we have sufficient evidence that a person owns a dog that has not been registered, a warrant may be issued for the owner for a violation of this specific ordinance, and a fine or jail sentence may be imposed. But why not vaccinate and register your dog? Since January 1, 1944, for every month up to June 1, 50 persons have taken the Pasteur treatment—50 persons each month, or a combined total of 500 treatments, averaging $25 as the cost of each course, will make $6,250.00, or a little over $1,200 monthly, not to mention the anxiety that clings for a long period of time, all of which might have been prevented had all of which been just a little more cooperative.

MORE HOSPITALS GET PENICILLIN

1,000 Added To List Already Serving As Distributors

CHICAGO, June 10.—(AP)—Addition of 1,000 more hospitals to those already serving as depot hospitals for the limited distribution of penicillin to civilians was announced today by the chemicals bureau of the war production board.

This brings to more than 2,000 the total number of hospitals serving as depots, the WPB said. The step was taken, officials related, to make the drug more conveniently available to hospitals in the less populated areas of the country.

Among the new additions are hospitals in Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands. Previously there were no depot hospitals outside the limits of the continental United States.

"The newly-established depots will recognize requests of other hospitals, and if the need is established, will to the best of their ability in consideration of their supply on hand, furnish penicillin for purchase by such other hospitals," the WPB said.

The promotion of Police Officer Guy Sievers to the rank of sergeant in the Monroe police department was announced yesterday by Chief B. L. Brantley.

Officer Sievers, a graduate of Northeast Junior College of L. S. U. where he was an outstanding athlete, will be night desk sergeant between the hours of 10 p. m. and 6 a. m., filling a position left by J. B. Whitfield, now in the United States navy.

TAYLOR ASKED TO RETURN TO VATICAN

WASHINGTON, June 10.—(AP)—Myron C. Taylor, President Roosevelt's personal representative to the Vatican, has been asked to return to his post as soon as possible.

He has been absent from the post since the fall of 1942. His reassignment to his post was made possible by the Allied conquest of Rome.

The State Department issued this statement today:

"Acting Secretary of State Stettinius announced this afternoon that at the request of the president the Honorable Myron C. Taylor has been asked to return to the Vatican as soon as possible as the president's personal representative."

Since his return to America, Taylor has served as vice-chairman of the advisory council of post-war foreign policy in the State Department. He went to the Vatican in 1939 as the president's first representative there. He holds the personal rank of ambassador.

AMENDMENTS TO OPA BILL DELAY

Six Hours Spent Without Reaching Bankhead Cotton Rider

WASHINGTON, June 10.—(AP)—Bogged down by more than a score of other amendments, the house spent six hours debating price control legislation today without even touching on such controversial subjects as the Bankhead cotton rider.

In its second consecutive Saturday session it disposed of only eight proposed changes before deciding to put off until next week a final vote on the bill continuing the price control law beyond its current expiration date of June 30.

Amendments tentatively approved all subject to roll-call votes later, deal with oil, subsidies to processors of agricultural products, court sales, reductions in ceiling prices on farm products, and the OPA's controversial "highest price line" regulation.

Voted down were proposals to give all retailers the benefit of lowest wholesale prices, to outlaw OPA penalties and sanctions not expressly authorized by law, to permit eviction of tenants who abuse rented property, and to exempt rough rice from price control.

The oil amendment, approved by a standing vote of 123 to 57, inserts a provision directing the OPA to order an increase of approximately 35 cents per barrel in crude prices. Its backers said it was necessary to keep petroleum production up with war-time consumption.

Representative Hartley, Republican, New Jersey, wrote the "highest price line" offered during a given period. Hartley urged it as essential to prevent smaller retailers from being forced out of business.

The amendment exempting court sales from OPA price ceilings was sponsored by Representative Springer, Republican, Indiana, who said existing OPA rules make it impossible for court agents in some states to make sales to the highest and best bidder.

An overwhelming voice vote accepted an amendment requiring OPA to give 15 days notice prior to the normal planting season before lowering price ceilings on agricultural commodities.

On motion of Representative Kleberg, Democrat, Texas, and by a standing vote of 83 to 38 the House adopted an amendment prohibiting the payment of subsidies to processors of agricultural products unless the processor gives satisfactory evidence of having paid the producer a parity price. The amendment primarily affects processors of wheat, cattle and hogs.

Rejected, 86 to 39, was a proposal by Representative Ralph, Republican, California, to permit evictions of tenants from rented property in cases where there is proof of abuse of the property. Existing regulations, Ralph contended, frequently make it impossible for a landlord to evict an "obnoxious" tenant.

Administration leaders are marshalling their votes to beat down the Bankhead amendment approved yesterday by the Senate to tie textile

Dr. Mengis Outlines Disease Indications; How To Play Safe

By Dr. C. L. Mengis

It would be very easy to make a differential diagnosis of diseases if all cases adheres strictly to textbook descriptions—however, most physicians agree that it is very difficult to distinguish between a mild case of smallpox and a severe case of chicken pox in an adult, especially in a colored person. We have recently had here in Ouachita parish, four and possibly five cases that have been diagnosed as discrete or mild smallpox, three of the cases occurring in the Calhoun vicinity, all colored, probably two of the cases being secondary contacts. It is now well recognized among health authorities, that every child should be vaccinated at three months of age, as has been compulsory in all British Dominions for fifty or more years. At this age, there has never been a case of encephalitis, or inflammation of the brain tissue, as sometimes rarely occurs in the adult—the child can not turn over so easily, so there is no danger of wounding the "take," and again, the chances of becoming infected by scratching or contamination are very slight, and when we consider that in Great Britain and its colonies, that smallpox is practically unknown, where once the disease was so common that an adult person who had not had smallpox was scarcely known in the United Kingdom, and freedom from pox marks was used as a means of identification.

Inoculation was first practiced in India over 1,900 years before Christ, and passed into Europe by way of Constantinople, and among the Arabs, was called buying the smallpox, wherein articles of food were bartered for so many pox marks in exchange, and Lady Mary Montagu, the wife of the British ambassador to the Turkish court, introduced inoculation into England. Jenner died on January 26, 1823, but lived long enough to see a complete triumph of his great discovery, and to know that it affords protection against one of the most dreadful scourges of mankind. The following epitaph is inscribed upon his tomb: Within this tomb hath found a resting place

The great physician of the human race, Immortal Jenner! Whose gigantic mind Brought life and health to more than half mankind. Let rescued infancy his worth proclaim, And lip out blessings on his honored name; And radiant beauty drop one grateful tear, For beauty's truest friend lies buried here.

Meningococcus meningitis, or epidemic cerebro-spinal, or spotted fever. We just recently had reported two cases of this disease in Ward 5, of Caldwell parish, of which I am acting director of the health unit. These cases were reported by Dr. Carroll of Columbia, and one of the patients, a child of five months died in a few hours after the onset of the illness—the other child, I believe is about seven years of age and is alive under treatment. Both of these children are from the same home, and during the illness of the living child were visited by a great many people.

We believe that sporadic or endemic cases of this disease are transmitted by healthy carriers—the infection is usually in the discharges from the nose and mouth and transmitted by direct contact—the incubation period is from two to 10 days, usually seven—the cases are mostly in children and young adults.

There is no immunization as a protection—however just recently, a report has been made by the department of epidemiology of the Johns Hopkins Medical School, evaluating the efficacy of the sulfonamides, administered to carriers and contacts—one gramme, (15 grains, or two tablets) of sulfathiazole daily for three days was given to all casual contacts, and two grammes (30 grains, four tablets, for three days, to more intimate contacts. Dr. Carroll wisely prohibited any meetings that might bring in new contacts, until it could be definitely determined just how far the infection might have spread.

We have a new truck for the collection and impounding of dogs, and since this program started, we have disposed of close to 1,000 worthless canines. We believe that there are yet about 2,000 dogs in Ouachita parish that have not been registered nor vaccinated—however, our program is on a permanent basis and we are picking up from 15 to 30 dogs daily, and with only one truck operating, it might be some time before we clean up. But why not vaccinate and register your dog? Since January 1, 1944, for every month up to June 1, 50 persons have taken the Pasteur treatment—50 persons each month, or a combined total of 250 treatments, averaging $25 as the cost of each course, will make $6,250.00, or a little over $120 monthly, not to mention the anxiety that clings for a long period of time, all of which might have been prevented had you been just a little more cooperative.

GUY SIEVERS IS MADE SERGEANT

The promotion of Police Officer Guy Sievers to the rank of sergeant in the Monroe police department was announced yesterday by Chief B. L. Brantley.

Officer Sievers, a graduate of Northeast Junior College of L. S. U. where he was an outstanding athlete, will be night desk sergeant between the hours of 10 p. m. and 6 a. m., filling a position left by J. B. Whitfield, now in the United States navy.

TAYLOR ASKED TO RETURN TO VATICAN

WASHINGTON, June 10.—(AP)—Myron C. Taylor, President Roosevelt's personal representative to the Vatican, has been asked to return to his post as soon as possible.

He has been absent from the post since the fall of 1942. His reassignment to his post was made possible by the Allied conquest of Rome.

The State Department issued this statement today:

"Acting Secretary of State Stettinius announced this afternoon that at the request of the president the Honorable Myron C. Taylor has been asked to return to the Vatican as soon as possible as the president's personal representative."

Since his return to America, Taylor has served as vice-chairman of the advisory council of post-war foreign policy in the State Department. He went to the Vatican in 1939 as the president's first representative there. He holds the personal rank of ambassador.

RENT AREA TO CURTAIL HOURS

Time To Receive Callers Is To Be Closed At 4 P. M.

The following statement was issued on Saturday by the area rent director.

Beginning on Monday, June 12, the area rent office will receive office callers from 10 o'clock in the morning until 4 o'clock in the afternoon, Monday through Saturday. It is imperative that the staff be given adequate time in which to conduct staff meetings, to study new amendments as they arrive, to attend correspondence and handle office mechanics in general. Obviously these functions cannot be observed when interviews are being held throughout each full working day of eight hours.

It is felt that the office staff will not only be able to perform more efficient service, but that those persons who are awaiting action on formal petitions and applications for relief will get quicker results, if only the staff is given a little free time each working day to handle procedural operations. It is not only requested that the public cooperate by arranging office visits between the hours of 10 o'clock in the morning and 4 o'clock in the afternoon, but that those persons who wish to telephone the office kindly place those calls between the hours just mentioned.

EARLY COMMUNION PLANNED SUNDAY

A service of more than ordinary impressiveness and consecration is anticipated this morning at 8:30 o'clock at the First Methodist Church, when a special communion service will be conducted by the pastor, Rev. A. M. Serex, with the special thought in mind of the men in armed service on the European front lines of battle.

In their honor, this service will be conducted and with an effort to entreat that victory may come and a lasting peace established.

Friends and relatives of men and women in service and all others are specially urged to attend this early morning service of consecration and dedication.

HE GETS AWARD

Lt. Iley Gaar, graduate of Neville High School, who has been flying a P-47 Thunderbolt, known as "Jenny Rebel"—named for his wife, and who has been in the air corps since September 1942, has received the air medal for distinguished service. Brigadier E. R. Guesada, who made the presentation in England recently, wrote to the lieutenant's wife, who by the way has been a bookkeeper in the business office of the News-Star and Morning World, as follows: "I have just had the honor of presenting the air medal to your husband. He received this medal for meritorious achievement while participating in missions over enemy territory. In all these missions, Iley displayed courage and skill which reflected credit on himself and the armed forces of his country. I take a great deal of pleasure in notifying you personally of his success and to congratulate you upon having such a fine husband, who is doing so much for his country." The lieutenant has many friends here. His wife before her marriage was Miss Jeannette (Jenny) Hart of Monroe. The lieutenant also received a five oak leaf cluster.

TEMPLE TO HAVE PICNIC IN PARK

Under the sponsorship of the B'Nai B'Rith and the Sisterhood of the Temple B'Nai Israel, a barbecue picnic will be held at Bernstein park, Sunday afternoon, June 11, at 3:30 o'clock. All of the Jewish military personnel and their families are invited to attend and are requested to please assemble outside of the Temple B'Nai Israel at 409 Jackson street on Sunday, at 3 p. m. Transportation will be available to transport all to Bernstein park.

The B'Nai B'Rith, under the presidency of Sam Schlossman and the Sisterhood, under the presidency of Mrs. Percy Sandman, are making every effort to insure a successful picnic. Following the delicious refreshments, a soft ball game will be organized by the Jewish welfare board director, Samuel Collins, and a jolly good time is anticipated.

SALVATION ARMY AIDING IN WAR

Went To Front When Hostilities Broke Out; Never Halts Efforts

Every veteran of World War I remembers the front-line war service of the Salvation Army. What is it doing in this war? Here is the answer. It went to the front with the first British and French troops five years ago when war was declared. It lost officers and workers killed, wounded, captured during the first operations in France. At Dunkirk it lost $300,000 of field equipment. Since then it has served continuously on each successive front and in each theater of war.

During the blitz international headquarters were bombed and burned to the ground. It went on feeding tens of thousands of shelterers in London, caring for refugees and developing a global network of Red Shield Clubs, canteens, huts and mobile units in every Allied country, now numbering more than 2,500 in England, Ireland, North Africa, Italy, Australia, New Guinea, Iceland, India and the United States. In addition the Salvation Army operates 195 USO clubs in the United States. These are financed by the USO treasury. All other Salvation Army war work is financed by the Salvation Army.

Fifteen English Salvationist centers, exclusively for American boys and specializing on American dishes, serve 10,000 weekly, while untold thousands are welcomed at more than 400 other English units serving all Allied troops.

The town of Compostello, Italy, has been turned into a vast recreation center by the Salvation Army. Ten thousand Americans and Canadians are served daily. Five hundred men, on 40-hour leaves from the front, are lodged nightly on real spring mattresses. Twenty-four hour a day movies are provided. Three other theaters also provide recreation. An officers' club and officers' restaurant also are operated by the Salvation Army.

Twenty-three huts of the Salvation Army serve on front lines in New Guinea. In North Africa six permanent and many mobile units serve our boys. In this area, during the fighting, Adj. William Tibbs, Salvation Army, gave service for which he has been given the Order of the British Empire for "outstanding bravery under fire."

A going away party and dance was given them here at the Civic Club Wednesday night.

CELEBRATE NATAL DAY OF DAN SHEA

LAKE PROVIDENCE, La., June 10.—(Special)—The 75th birthday anniversary of Dan Shea, of Route 1, Lake Providence, was celebrated here recently as has been the custom of the family for the past 10 years. This year, as most of the male family members were at war, the women took over the celebration to a large extent.

Those present included: Mrs. Lizze Hueschaver, Jackson, Miss, sister-in-law whom Mr. Shea had not seen for 35 years; Mrs. Lulu King, St. Louis, Mo.; Mrs. Nellie Perkins, Poplar Bluff, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Clark and Mrs. Mamie Ford, Texarkana, Tex.; Mrs. Mary Beaver and J. W. Shea and children; Mrs. Edward F. Gerber, Iliou, N. Y.; Mrs. Guy W. James, Houston, Tex. (granddaughter); Morton Shea and family (grandson).

COL. RIZZO GETS COMMENDATION

Commander Praises His Erection And Management Of Hospital

Lt. Col. Frank P. Rizzo, a former practicing physician in Monroe, now stationed in New Guinea as a chief surgeon of the 49th General Hospital, has received a commendation from his commanding officer for conspicuous service rendered as building manager of the thousand-bed hospital in a jungle in New Guinea.

This hospital has the distinction of making the best record on the island, perhaps in the entire southwest Pacific, in that it was able to receive patients 21 days after construction was started.

The letter of commendation reads thus: "Subject: Commendation. To: Lt. Col. Frank P. Rizzo. "1. You are hereby commended for your industry, zeal, competence and leadership exhibited in the construction of this hospital during the period of March 5, 1944 and April 27, 1944. "2. Your contribution has been an example to your men, a credit to yourself and the service, and has enabled the early accomplishment of the primary mission of this organization."

The letter bore the signature of John L. Kantor, colonel, M. C., commanding.

Miss Lee Slagle, upper right, was valedictorian of the Ouachita Parish High School senior class and Miss Theresa Thomlsee, lower left, was selected salutatorian of the senior class.

Miss Slagle won the Newcomb scholarship and left today for New Orleans where she will enter upon her freshman year at Sophie Newcomb College. Numerous honors were conferred upon Miss Slagle during her high school days, outstanding being the annual award offered by the Daughters of the American Revolution for "Good Citizenship." She was selected by members of the student body at Ouachita Parish High School for this honor.

Miss Sue Spatafora, top center, was named valedictorian of the senior class of St. Matthew's Parochial School.

Miss Carol Jean Stegall, lower right, was valedictorian of the senior class of Neville High school. Miss Sally Foster, upper left, was salutatorian. Miss Foster was awarded the honor scholarship at Sophie Newcomb College and will enroll for her freshman year in September. She was president of the 1944 student body and was awarded the Kiwanis Club war bond for the best essay, "Keeping America American." She also received the D. A. R. award for "Good Citizenship."

It's a thrill of a lifetime to be a June high school graduate, gowned in white organza with arms full of flowers in the class colors and to walk forth on a stage banked with flowers to receive the coveted diploma. The greatest thrill, however, is experienced by the class valedictorian and the class salutatorian. They occupy the spotlight and are the center of attraction. Five lovely girls selected for this high honor are seen in the pictures today.

D. A. R. Dedicates Monument Commemorating Anniversary Of Government

Mrs. Mitchell Tells History Of Landings

Raising Of First American Flag Over Site Is Detailed By Speaker Here

Mrs. Charles Mitchell, regent of Fort Miro chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, was the principal speaker Saturday afternoon when a monument was dedicated marking the site of the American Post of the Ouachita, commemorating the 140th anniversary of the formal transfer by the French government to the United States and the raising of the first American flag over the Ouachita valley.

The program was presented at the D. A. R. chapter house and later the monument, erected on South Grand street, was unveiled by Mrs. Stanley Blower with impressive ceremony.

Mrs. Mitchell is one who speaks with authority on all events of historic interest in Ouachita parish. She has done extensive research work and has compiled facts and figures contained in a book soon to be published.

Addressing a representative audience at the D. A. R. chapter house, Mrs. Mitchell said in part: "We, the members of Fort Miro Chapter National Society Daughters of the American Revolution are most happy to have you assemble here with us, to dedicate this monument marking the site of the American Post of the Ouachita, to commemorate the 140th anniversary of the formal transfer by the French government to the United States and the raising of the first American flag over the Ouachita valley.

"So much has been written in the past 140 years about the colorful ceremonies that transpired at New Orleans at the formal delivery of Louisiana, that historians have overlooked or neglected to tell of the transfer of the nine other points of government which had been set up throughout that far flung empire on which La Salle had planted a cross with the arms of France at the mouth of the Mississippi April 9, 1682, and in the name of the French king took possession of the river, all of its branches, and the territory watered by them, and in his honor named it Louisiana.

"The territory acquired by the Louisiana Purchase comprised 1,229,318 square miles out of which has been carved 13 states and the major portion of five other states. This vast country meanders across the present map of the United States from central Alabama, to Texas, and from the Gulf of Mexico to the northwest, through the states of Oregon and Washington to the Pacific ocean.

"It is my intention to take you back in time to April 15, 1804, the spring after the Louisiana Purchase to one of those seals of government, to the Post of the Ouachita located on the Ouachita river where we stand today. On that day the Post of the Ouachita and its dependencies were formally delivered, with great ceremony by the commandant, Lt. Vincent Francisco Tejero y Colard acting for the French government to Joseph W. Bowmar, first lieutenant, United States infantry, acting agent for the United States government.

"Lieutenant Bowmar arrived that morning accompanied by a detachment of twenty-one soldiers. A procession of citizens soon formed and conducted him before Tejero where the Post was formally delivered, by the exchange of flags, with the usual interchange of ceremonies. The French flag superceded the Spanish at 11 o'clock a. m., accompanied by a discharge of artillery, a division of cavalry paraded near it.

"The regular troops formed on the opposite side, facing the cavalry and precisely at noon the tri-colored flag of France slowly descended, meeting the rising flag of the United States at half mast. After the pause of a few minutes, the flag of France descended to the ground, and the American flag, at that time composed of 13 stars and 15 stripes, rose to the summit of the flag staff saluted by the roar of artillery and accompanied by a full band of martial music to the air of 'Hail Columbia'.

"From the Ouachita parish court records, and descendants of those persons who witnessed the ceremonies, one can visualize the scene and readily identify the people who stood in the foreground among the group of inhabitants on that eventful day of April, 1804. First of course, we see the old and honorable Don Juan Filibol, former civil and military commandant, who established the Spanish Post of the Ouachita in 1783. He was present with his wife and children; they came from their nearby plantation, Fort Miro. The Chevalier De Anoumours, former consul general from France to the United States of America, with his ward, the former Eleanor Hook and her husband, Abraham Morhouse. Another group of interested spectators included Alexander Broad, Francois Laysard, James McLauchlin and John Morrison, together with the French traveler Robin and Jacques Larche. Then, too, that grand old lady Madam Bonaventure, said to have borne the first white child born on the Ouachita was there on the arm of that gallant young gentleman Louis Epinat Jr., who later was destined to give his life for his country at the Battle of New Orleans. There were also many other notable people, too numerous to mention, watching the troops on parade and listening to the martial music during the interchange of flags.

"Now, we shift our gaze to the opposite side of the parade ground. The hunting season is over, we see the hunters arrive dressed in buckskin suits and tall con-skin caps. They advance mounted on horseback, their gaily caparisoned chargers decorated with yards and yards of multi-colored ribbons flowing from manes and tails. They wheel themselves into position and draw up at attention. Near them are three great Indian nations who courted the waters of the river between the Arkansas and the Red.

"They had come to the post with their wives and children to trade their peltries with the local merchants, Poret, Badin, Lily Sarril and Cortes. Standing out in front is Tuhouan, great chief of the Great Caddo with his warriors and hunters. Sternly erect with head held high, he seems to mingle with the interloping Muskogean, Chief Tusquahoma and his Choctaw braves, who have left their own country across the great waters of the Mississippi to perch on his hunting grounds on the Ouachita. These mortal enemies who scalped each other on sight are strangely restless as they stand with the great Sioux, Quappa chief, from Arkansas and his people, all silent spectators to the strange ceremonial of the white man that is being enacted before their eyes on the grounds of their ancient trading post, the Prairie des Canots.

"When the last round of artillery has been fired, the last note of 'Hail Columbia' had died away and the cheering of the people had subsided, Lieutenant Bowmar, standing erect under the American flag, concluded the ceremony by reading the proclamation of Governor Claiborne announcing the supremacy of the federal jurisdiction over the province and the termination of all foreign dominion. He exhorted the people to be firm in their allegiance to the United States of America, and obedient to the laws which were to be extended over them; he assured them that their liberty, their right and their property should be protected from any quarter and that in due time they should be entitled to the rights and privileges of an independent state government.

"The scene has changed; 140 years have passed. Today, the scream of the American Eagle has challenged the world; he has raised his pinions and borne that flag to fight on far-flung battle fronts. Our country is at war that liberty and justice may come to all people. The invasion is on. The Daughters of the American Revolution pause in their war efforts to dedicate this monument marking the site of the American Post of the Ouachita, commemorating the 140th anniversary of the delivery to the United States, and the raising of the first American flag over the Ouachita valley, with the prayer that God in His infinite goodness and wisdom may permit the Stars and Stripes to fly forever over the peaceful valley of the Ouachita, the great state of Louisiana, and our glorious country, the United States of America."

Presbyterian Church's Bible School To Start

Vacation Bible school will begin Monday, June 12, at the First Presbyterian Church. The school this year is under the leadership of Miss Mary Pope, who needs no introduction as a Bible school leader as she has conducted Bible schools not only in the church of Monroe but in many churches throughout the Synod of Louisiana. Miss Pope has an able corps of teachers and helpers to assist in all the departments. They are as follows:

Beginner, Mrs. George Burkett and Miss Joy Harper; primary, Mrs. H. V. Collins and Mrs. W. E. Holt, junior, Mrs. C. K. Cantrell, Mrs. J. D. Hamilton, Mrs. Sidney Strout, Mrs. Kate Mounce, Mrs. Frank O'Neil, Mrs. L. B. Breen, Howard Hunter Jr., and Martha McDonald; intermediate, Mrs. Renee McCard.

The theme for the school is "Soldiers of Christ Our King," and the motto is taken from II Timothy 2:3, "Thou therefore endure hardness, as a good soldier of Jesus Christ."

All boys and girls of the Twin Cities, regardless of their church affiliation, are extended a cordial invitation to enroll Monday, June 12. The daily program will begin at 8:45 and close at 11:40.

The commencement program and communion service will be held Friday, June 23, 9 a. m. in the church auditorium. Certificates will be awarded to those who have completed the required assignments and have been present for 9 or 10 days.

After enjoying a short vacation between the spring and summer quarters of work, Miss Mary Fortenberry left her home in Oak Grove, La., Friday to resume her study of music at Louisiana State University.

Miss Moore Presented In Recital at L. S. U.

Recognized as a pianist of unusual promise, Miss Elbertine Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Moore of West Monroe, evidenced real musicianship when she was presented in a senior recital by the school of music at Louisiana State University, Baton Rouge.

As a young artist, Miss Moore has accomplished much that is noteworthy, and music lovers here and in other sections of the state have watched her continued progress with keen interest and anticipation. Indications of talent displayed as a child pupil of Mrs. Raymond Spence, became more pronounced with maturity.

She continued her study of piano during high school and two years as a pupil of Florence Ziegler Allbritton. After receiving her diploma as a music major in the spring of 1942, Miss Moore matriculated at L. S. U. that fall with a piano scholarship under Carlton Liddle. Last summer she resumed study under Mrs. Allbritton, then returned to the university as a senior in the school of music.

Her program of work there has been exceedingly full. In addition to her regular studies, she has appeared frequently as soloist and accompanist and on regular radio broadcasts over a Baton Rouge station.

One of the distinct forms of recognition accorded the young artist this year was having her appear in a program of contemporary music in which the university presented members of the faculty and the university women's chorus. Miss Moore was featured with Mr. Liddle in a suite for two pianos comprising three numbers by Beryl Rubinstein, "Gigue," "Canzonetta," and "Masks."

In her senior piano recital preceding graduation this spring, Miss Moore delighted her audience with brilliant performance in a program including several selections which made heavy demands upon the youthful artist. Numbers presented were: "Come Gentle Death" (Bach-Beethoven); "Andante Varlee" (Haydn); "Sonata in D minor" (Soler-Nin); "Three Etudes" (Chopin); "Fantasie, Op. 49" (Chopin); "Concert Etude in F minor" (Liszt); "Etude Arabesque" (Hinton); "Two Preludes" (Debussy); "Concerto, Op. 12" (Pierne). Mr. Liddle was at the second piano.

D. A. R. Dedicates Monument Commemorating Anniversary Of Government

Mrs. Mitchell Tells History Of Landings

Raising Of First American Flag Over Site Is Detailed By Speaker Here

Mrs. Charles Mitchell, regent of Fort Miro chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, was the principal speaker Saturday afternoon when a monument was dedicated marking the site of the American Post of the Ouachita, commemorating the 140th anniversary of the formal transfer by the French government to the United States and the raising of the first American flag over the Ouachita valley.

The program was presented at the D. A. R. chapter house and later the monument, erected on South Grand street, was unveiled by Mrs. Stanley Blower with impressive ceremony.

Mrs. Mitchell is one who speaks with authority on all events of historic interest in Ouachita parish. She has done extensive research work and has compiled facts and figures contained in a book soon to be published.

Addressing a representative audience at the D. A. R. chapter house, Mrs. Mitchell said in part:

"We, the members of Fort Miro Chapter National Society Daughters of the American Revolution are most happy to have you assemble here with us, to dedicate this monument marking the site of the American Post of the Ouachita, to commemorate the 140th anniversary of the formal transfer by the French government to the United States and the raising of the first American flag over the Ouachita valley.

"So much has been written in the past 140 years about the colorful ceremonies that transpired at New Orleans at the formal delivery of Louisiana, that historians have overlooked or neglected to tell of the transfer of the nine other points of government which had been set up throughout that far flung empire on which La Salle had planted a cross with the arms of France at the mouth of the Mississippi April 9, 1682, and in the name of the French king took possession of the river, all of its branches, and the territory watered by them, and in his honor named it Louisiana.

"The territory acquired by the Louisiana Purchase comprised 1,239,318 square miles out of which has been carved 13 states and the major portion

PROMINENT FIGURES IN D. A. R. CIRCLES

Mrs. H. A. Miller, to the left, Mrs. Charles Mitchell, center, and Mrs. Stanley Blower, to the right, were prominent figures at the dedication ceremony yesterday of the monument marking the site of the American Post of the Ouachita, commemorating the 140th anniversary of the formal transfer by the French government to the United States and the raising of the first American flag over the Ouachita Valley. Mrs. Mitchell, regent of Fort Miro Chapter D. A. R. gave the dedication speech and Mrs. Miller, vice-regent, gave the introductory remarks. Mrs. Blower unveiled the monument.

of five other states. This vast country meanders across the present map of the United States from central Alabama, to Texas, and from the Gulf of Mexico to the northwest, through the states of Oregon and Washington to the Pacific ocean.

"It is my intention to take you back in time to April 15, 1804, the spring after the Louisiana Purchase to one of those seats of government, to the Post of the Ouachita located on the Ouachita river where we stand today. On that day the Post of the Ouachita and its dependencies were formally delivered, with great ceremony by the Spanish commandant, Lt. Vincent Francisco Tejero y Cotard acting for the French government to Joseph W. Bowmar, first lieutenant, United States Infantry, acting agent for the United States government.

"Lieutenant Bowmar arrived that morning accompanied by a detachment of twenty-one soldiers. A procession of citizens soon formed and conducted him before Tejero where the Post was formally delivered, by the exchange of flags, with the usual interchange of ceremonies. The French flag superceded the Spanish at 11 o'clock a. m., accompanied by a discharge of artillery, a division of cavalry paraded near it.

"The regular troops formed on the opposite side, facing the cavalry and precisely at noon the tri-colored flag of France slowly descended, meeting the rising flag of the United States at half mast. After the pause of a few minutes, the flag of France descended to the ground, and the American flag, at that time composed of 15 stars and 15 stripes, rose to the summit of the flag staff saluted by the roar of artillery and accompanied by a full band of martial music to the air of 'Hail Columbia'.

"From the Ouachita parish court records, and descendants of those persons who witnessed the ceremonies, one can visualize the scene and readily identify the people who stood in the foreground among the group of inhabitants on that eventful day of April, 1804. First of course, we see the old and honorable Don Juan Filhiol, former civil and military commandant, who established the Spanish Post of the Ouachita in 1783. He was present with his wife and children; they came from their nearby plantation, Fort Miro. The Chevalier De Anonours, former consul general from France to the United States of America, with his wife, the former Eleanor Hook and her husband, Abraham Morhouse. Another group of interested spectators included Alexander Brard, Francois Laysard, James McLaughlin and John Morrison, together with the French traveler Robin and old lady Madam Bonaventure, said to have borne the first white child born on the Ouachita was there on the arm of that gallant young gentleman Louis Epinot Jr., who later was destined to give his life for his country at the Battle of New Orleans. There were also many other notable people, too numerous to mention, watching the troops on parade and listening to the martial music during the interchange of flags.

"Now, we shift our gaze to the opposite side of the parade ground. The hunting season is over, we see the hunters arrive dressed in buckskin suits and tall con-skin caps. They advance mounted on horseback, their gaily caparisoned chargers decorated with yards and yards of multi-colored ribbons flowing from manes and tails. They wheel themselves into position and draw up at attention. Near them are three great Indian nations who coursed the waters of the river between the Arkansas and the Red.

"They had come to the post with their wives and children to trade their peltries with the local merchants, Poirat, Badin, Lily Sarp and Cortez. Standing out in front is Tinkhoan, great chief of the Great Caddo with his warriors and hunters. Sternly erect with head held high, he seems to mingle with the interloping Muskogean, Chief Tusquahoma and his Choctaw braves, who have left their own country across the great waters of the Mississippi to poach on his hunting grounds on the Ouachita. These mortal enemies who scalped each other on sight are strangely restless as they stand with the great Sioux, Quappa chief, from Arkansas and his people, all silent spectators to the strange ceremonial of the white man that is being enacted before their eyes on the grounds of their ancient trading post, the Prairie des Canots.

"When the last round of artillery has been fired, the last note of 'Hail Columbia' had died away and the cheering of the people had subsided, Lieutenant Bowmar, standing erect under the American flag, concluded the ceremony by reading the proclamation of Governor Claiborne announcing the supremacy of the federal jurisdiction over the province and the termination of all foreign dominion. He exhorted the people to be firm in their allegiance to the United States of America, and obedient to the laws which were to be extended over them; he assured them that their liberty, their right and their property should be protected from any quarter and that in due time they should be entitled to the right and privileges of an independent state government.

"The scene has changed; 140 years have passed. Today, the scream of the American Eagle has challenged the world; he has raised his pinions and borne that flag to fight on far-flung battle fronts. Our country is at war that liberty and justice may come to all people. The invasion is on. The Daughters of the American Revolution pause in their war efforts to dedicate this monument marking the site of the American Post of the Ouachita, commemorating the 140th anniversary of the delivery to the United States, and the raising of the first American flag over the Ouachita valley, with the prayer that God in His infinite goodness and wisdom may permit the Stars and Stripes to fly forever over the peaceful valley of the Ouachita, the great state of Louisiana, and our glorious country, the United States of America."

Presbyterian Church's Bible School To Start

Vacation Bible school will begin Monday, June 12, at the First Presbyterian Church. The school this year is under the leadership of Miss Mary Pope, who needs no introduction as a Bible school leader as she has conducted Bible schools not only in the church of Monroe but in many churches throughout the Synod of Louisiana. Miss Pope has an able corps of teachers and helpers to assist in all the departments. They are as follows:

Beginner, Mrs. George Burkett and Miss Joy Harper; primary, Mrs. H. V. Collins and Mrs. W. E. Holt; junior, Mrs. C. K. Crandall, Mrs. J. D. Hamilton, Mrs. Sydney Stroud, Mrs. Kate Morrice, Mrs. Frank O'Neil, Mrs. L. B. Broad, Howard Hunter Jr., and Martha McDonald; intermediate, Mrs. Rene McCord.

The theme for the school is "Soldiers of Christ Our King," and the motto is taken from II Timothy 2:3: "Thou therefore endure hardness, as a good soldier of Jesus Christ."

All boys and girls of the Twin Cities, regardless of their church affiliation, are extended a cordial invitation to enroll Monday, June 12. The daily program will begin at 8:45 and close at 11:40.

The commencement program and communion service will be held Friday, June 23, 9 a. m. in the church auditorium. Certificates will be awarded to those who have completed the required assignments and have been present for 9 or 10 days.

After enjoying a short vacation between the spring and summer quarters of work, Miss Mary Fortenberry left her home in Oak Grove, La., Friday to resume her study of music at Louisiana State University.

Miss Moore Presented In Recital at L. S. U.

Recognized as a pianist of unusual promise, Miss Elbertine Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Moore of West Monroe, evidenced real musicianship when she was presented in a senior recital by the school of music at Louisiana State University, Baton Rouge.

As a young artist, Miss Moore has accomplished much that is noteworthy, and music lovers here and in other sections of the state have watched her continued progress with keen interest and anticipation. Indications of talent displayed as a child pupil of Mrs. Raymond Spence, became more pronounced with maturity.

She continued her study of piano during high school and two years at Northeast Junior College, L. S. U., as a pupil of Florence Ziegler Allbritton. After receiving her diploma as a music major in the spring of 1942, Miss Moore matriculated at L. S. U. that fall with a piano scholarship under Carlton Liddle. Last summer she resumed study under Mrs. Allbritton, then returned to the university as a senior in the school of music.

Her program of work there has been exceedingly full. In addition to her regular studies, she has appeared frequently as soloist and accompanist and on regular radio broadcasts over a Baton Rouge station.

One of the distinct forms of recognition accorded the young artist this year was having her appear in a program of contemporary music in which the university presented members of the faculty and the university women's chorus. Miss Moore was featured with Mr. Liddle in a suite for two pianos comprising three numbers by Beryl Rubinstein, "Gigue," "Canzonetta," and "Masks."

In her senior piano recital preceding graduation this spring, Miss Moore delighted her audience with brilliant performance in a program including several selections which made heavy demands upon the youthful artist. Numbers presented were: "Come Gentle Variet" (Haydn); "Sonata in D minor" (Soler-Nin); "Three Etudes" (Chopin); Moore matriculated at L. S. U. that fall with a piano scholarship under Carlton Liddle. Last summer she resumed study under Mrs. Allbritton, then returned to the university as a senior in the school of music.

Miss Sue McBride And Lt. John Brizius Wed

Ceremony Held At First Methodist Church By Dr. Serex; Reception Follows

Friday, June 9, was Miss Sue McBride's wedding day. She walked down a candlelit aisle at the First Methodist Church at seven-thirty o'clock in the evening to become the bride of Lt. John Alfred Brizius. She was the typical June bride in traditional white satin, an Emily model, fashioned with a tight fitting bodice with marquisette yoke and a diaphanous skirt of white marquisette ending in a long court train. A fingertip veil of bridal illusion was caught to the hair with a coronet of orange blossoms.

Her bouquet, fashioned of white orchids, bridesmaids and valley lilies, was the essence of artistry. All the time honored customs were observed by the bride who wore "something old and something new, something borrowed and something blue." For something old she wore the diamond ring worn by generations of brides in her mother's family. It was fashioned from the bride's great-grandfather's diamond stick pin. A friend of the McBride family for years, Mr. Frank V. Spivey, was privileged to give the bride away.

The church was lush and shadowy at the nuptial hour with myriad candles in white wrought iron candelabra pricking the dimness of the altar. The lighting of the tapers by the ushers, Lt. Lennox P. McLendon, Lt. Willard Smith and Lt. William K.

McCaughin, was a distinct feature of the ceremony.

Artistic sheaves of calla lilies and white gladioli overflowing from tall white pedestal vases, flanked the altar. Baskets of lilies alternated with tall candelabra in the background.

While the guests were being seated, the organist, Mrs. John Sholars, rendered a pre-nuptial concert including "Meditation" from Thais and Schubert's "Ave Maria." Two beautiful vocal numbers, "Because" and "I Love Thee" were rendered by Mrs. Clyde Sanders.

Dr. A. M. Serex, pastor of the First Methodist Church officiated.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Earl Richmond McBride, served as matron of honor and Miss Joyce McKoin and Miss Cornelia Herron served as bridesmaids. They all wore Carolyn models of aqua marquisette fashioned with shirred bodices and long, bouffant skirts. They were becoming little half hats of blue marquisette and carried arm bouquets of Talisman roses tied with Talisman ribbon.

Lt. Caswell O. Robinson served as best man.

Following the ceremony an informal reception attended only by the wedding party and immediate relatives of the two families, took place at the home of the bride's mother.

Miss Bettye Davis, left, and Miss Libby Siegle, center, were recently elected sponsors for Theta Kappa Omega fraternity. Miss Siegle was also recently elected president of Alpha Delta Kappa sorority. Miss Shirley Ann Courtney, right, was elected "Sweetheart" of Theta Kappa fraternity.

Beautiful flowers were everywhere in evidence with white flowers predominating in the dining room where the bride and bridegroom cut their wedding cake before departing on their honeymoon. The cake, a three-tiered confection surmounted with a crystallized vase overflowing with fresh flowers—bride's roses and valley lilies—centered the lace covered, silver service table. White roses were placed on crescent shaped mirrors at the four corners of the table. At either end white tapers burned in crystal candelabra. A variety of confections and fruit frappe were served during the receiving hour.

The bride took this opportunity to present her attendants with attractive silver perfume bottles encased in silver. The bridegroom presented his attendants with handsome pin seal leather wallets monogrammed in gold.

The bride changed her wedding gown for a lovely tulle of melon colored linen accented with crisp, white piping.

Following the honeymoon the young couple will reside at 402 Spurgeon Drive, this city. Lieutenant Brizius, who is stationed at Selman Field is the son of Mrs. O. M. Brizius of St. Louis, Mo. He is a graduate of the University of Missouri and is a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity.

The bride, lovely member of the younger set, is a graduate of the Louisiana State University where she was a member of Tri Delta sorority. For the past year she has been a member of the Ouachita Parish High School faculty.

Out of town guests attending the wedding were the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. O. M. Brizius and Mrs. F. P. Elder and Miss Susan Dale Elder of St. Louis.

Local Girl Reserves To Attend Conference

Gulphark College on the Mississippi coast will be the meeting place of Girl Reserves from five states: Alabama, Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, and Tennessee June 13-21. This Girl Reserve conference provides eight days filled with experiences in living, thinking, worshipping, and playing together. "Meeting the Challenge of a Different World" will be the theme of the conference and it will be carried out in the worship service, in the discussion groups, and in the general assembly with capable leaders and the girls working together.

Daily morning group worship has always been one of the impressive parts of the conference, and this year the services will be under the leadership of the girls and the Girl Reserve secretaries of each association at the conference. Each morning there is a "workshop" period at which time the girls study and think together on their Girl Reserve club program and activities, the club objectives, the program emphasis, the meaning of Girl Reserve, and sharing various programs and activities which have proved successful in other groups.

Living together in the dormitory will give the girls the experiences of living democratically and cooperatively, showing consideration of others. Each girl belongs to a triangle which is composed of 23 girls and the counselor and through this group girls plan together and think together on the various phases of the conference. The "free time" at the conference brings fun and good times: dips in the gulf, a swim in the beautiful pool, sailing, beach picnics, campfires, crafts, tennis, music, dancing, and dramatics.

Miss Eunice Brunson, secretary of Mobile, Ala., is the conference executive. Miss Eugenia Hogan, secretary of New Orleans, is the program director; Helen Gibbons, Shreveport, is the girl executive; Justine Walker, Columbia, Miss., is the girl hostess. ## Expecting a Baby?

Mother's Friend helps bring ease and comfort to expectant mothers.

MOTHER'S FRIEND, an exclusively prepared emollient, is used in all conditions where a bland, mild anodyne massage medium in skin lubrication is desired. One condition in which women for more than 70 years have used it is an application for massaging the body during pregnancy. It helps keep the skin soft and pliable, thus avoiding unnecessary discomfort due to dryness and tightness. It refreshes and tones the skin. An ideal massage application for the numb, tingling or burning sensations of the skin... for the tired back muscles or cramp-like pains in the legs. Quickly absorbed. Delightful to use.

Mother's Friend
Highly praised by users, many doctors and nurses. Just ask any druggist for Mother's Friend—the skin lubricant. Try it tonight.

Pow-Wow Staff Holds Annual Banquet Here

Affair Heightened By Record Of Having Been 'All-American' Seven Times

Originality and beauty of detail characterized the traditional annual banquet marking the close of a year's work for staff members of Pow Wow, newspaper of Northeast Junior College. The occasion was celebrated in the mirror room of the Frances Hotel Thursday evening, June 1.

The spirit of festivity was heightened by the publication's having established a record of unusual distinction. Receiving the All-American rating from the Associated Collegiate Press this year marked the seventh consecutive time that the Pow Wow has been accorded this honor, an achievement unequalled by any junior college newspaper in the United States.

Providing an atmosphere of the deep South, the banquet table was decorated in magnolias and gardenias with lacy sprays of fern arranged gracefully at intervals. Large crystal bowls, holding pink and red Radiance roses, and feverfew, were placed at vantage points in the room. Originality was featured in the place cards which bore clever sketches characteristic of each guest. They were designed by Miss Patsy Livingston and showed considerable artistry. Making the newspaper theme more effective were cover markers in pieces of lead on which each person's name was set in type. Lovely gardenias added a pretty note to the covers.

Attractive programs with the headline "Seven Times All-American," used page titles such as "Sloppy Copy," "Make-Up," and "By Lines." Journalistic terms also were used to designate foods comprising a menu of delectable southern dishes.

Miss Barbara Schuster, editor of the Pow Wow, made a gracious toast-mistress. She was wearing black marquisette with close fitting bodice and long full skirt trimmed in white braid, and a corsage of white carnations. The invocation was given by Miss Mary Clay, who was lovely in an old fashioned frock of pink silk with floral designs, and her hair was topped with a pink blossom.

A humorous phase of the program was an opinion poll, reminiscent of college days, taken by Mr. John Mullin in the role of the ultra dramatic reporter. Miss Charlotte Miller, in a blue lace gown with a gardenia in her hair, and Mr. Sylvester Breard sang in the splendid voice "The Desert Song." They were accompanied by Miss Marie Martin, who chose a becoming mauve model of closely fitted bodice and bouffant skirt and daisies for her hair.

Predicting the future for these young journalists proved a feature which provoked much merriment. Miss Patsy Livingston, who was wearing a striking white and red Swiss frock with red Jersey basque, was cast in the role of a crystal gazer.

Presentation of the two gifts added to the surprise of the evening. In recognition of her outstanding achievement as editor-in-chief of the Pow Wow, Miss Schuster received from the staff a handsome black bag and white gloves. Mrs. Annie Lee West Stahl, faculty adviser of the publication, was presented by Miss Schuster a gift from the staff a lovely black bag with plastic initial, and a pretty ebony vanity case.

Following the banquet the group formed a theater party to complete the evening's entertainment. Those who were privileged to enjoy the occasion were the following staff members and special guests: Misses Barbara Schuster, Martha Thompson, Auley Burgess, Patsy Livingston, Sue Tarver, Ouida Welch, Margie Martin, Carolyn Watts, Dorothy Ruth, Florence Abrams, Mary Pat Rust, Betty Ann Taylor, Jean Spencer, Charlotte Miller, Mr. John Mullin, Mr. Sylvester Breard, Miss Mary Clay, Miss Eleona Brinsmade, Miss Jean McCormick, Miss Marilyn Kaffie and Mrs. Annie Lee West Stahl.

Mrs. J. T. Sumrall and daughter have gone to Abilene, Tex., to be with Pvt. J. T. Sumrall Jr. who is in camp there.

HILDA JEAN OSTERMAN

Miss Osterman, member of this year's graduating class of the Neville High School claims the distinction of winning the Thompson-Wood-Lee Auxiliary award offered for the best essay on American history. She also won the annual cash award offered by the Louisiana Spanish War Veterans. Miss Osterman was elected poet of the 1944 graduating class.

Robinson was co-hostess on this occasion.

The hostesses presented Miss McBride with a gift of silver in the Chantilly pattern and a gift of Haviland in the Apple Blossom pattern.

Supper was served, buffet style, from a flower adorned table in the dining room. Twenty guests were present in this occasion.

June Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Lewis is visiting her uncle and aunt, Dean and Mrs. B. H. Singletary of Baton Rouge.

Mrs. V. A. Daniel has been removed from her home from St. Francis sanitarium and is now recovering nicely from a recent serious illness.

Lt. and Mrs. J. W. Moore announce the arrival of their third child, a daughter, Margaret Middleton, at St. Francis sanitarium. The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John Middleton and the paternal grandmother is Mrs. Christine Moore. Mrs. Moore is the former Miss Betty Middleton.

Mrs. Gordon Barton McLendon and infant daughter, Janette Grey, will leave St. Francis sanitarium on Tuesday and will be at home to their friends with Mrs. McLendon's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Noe in Fairview. The guest house in the rear gardens of the Noe home was recently converted into a nursery and will be occupied for the time being by Mrs. McLendon and daughter and nurse.

Friends will be disappointed to learn that Miss Mary Stuart Kellogg will not visit in Monroe en route from Sophie Newcomb College, New Orleans, to her home in Washington, D. C., as planned. She will spend June Week in Annapolis and will then leave for Washington to spend the summer with her mother, Mrs. Thomas Leigh and Lieutenant Leigh.

Mrs. Howard E. Lewis entertained with a southern fried chicken supper at her home on Bonne Air Drive Wednesday evening for Mrs. Ralph Bowman of New Orleans, who is visiting her mother, Mrs. Myrtle McCabe and her grandmothers, Mrs. J. F. Brinson and Mrs. DeSiard Road. Dr. Bowman will join her later in the week and accompany her back to New Orleans where she will resume her studies at Turo. She has been the center of many social affairs given in her honor while a guest in the city. Mrs. Bowman will be remembered as Miss Marie McCabe.

Miss Mimi Meek arrived home last week from Louisiana Tech accompanied by Miss Frances Lockridge of Ruston. A tea in the home of Miss Meek with her mother, Mrs. Shelby Meek, hostess, honored Miss Lockridge. Many charming courtesies were extended the guests who were invited to meet Miss Lockridge. Another guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Meek at this time is Miss Sara Ann Stone of Nacogdoches, Texas. She is the guest of Miss Shelby Meek.

Miss Innis Ellis is Honoree At Shower

Between the hours, four to six, Miss Robbie Binion, Mrs. M. D. Stodghill, Mrs. J. B. Thompson and Mrs. Hugh J. Stodghill entertained at a tea shower at the home of the latter, complimenting Miss Innis Ellis whose marriage will take place this month.

Mrs. C. J. Ellis, Mrs. Wallace Atkinson, and Miss Teenie Green assisted the hostesses in receiving. Miss Ellis wore a lovely floor length model of pink lace.

Vases of blue and pink hydrangeas and pink radiance roses were placed in the living room where the lovely gifts of china, silver, crystal and linen were displayed.

The refreshment table in the dining room was centered with a beautiful floral arrangement of pink carnations, rain lilies, blue salvia and fern which was flanked by tall pink tapers in crystal holders. Crystal plates held assorted open-faced sandwiches and individual cakes in pastel colors. Mrs. Helen G. Snee, Mrs. Roy Waters and Mrs. W. L. Jones served punch. More than eighty guests called during the afternoon.

Mrs. Gwen Hulm and Betty Davis will leave Tuesday to attend the Alpha Delta Kappa national sorority convention in Dyersburg, Tenn. The convention will last through June 18.

THE STORE FOR MEN
Selig Corner, DeSiard at 2nd

Three attractive visitors in the George Gunby home, Miss St. Clair Hayden, Miss Elizabeth Cook and Miss Ann Stone of Shreveport, are receiving the lion's share of social attention these days. Shortly after arrival they were introduced to a few members of the younger set in the home of Mrs. W. F. Cooper where cold drinks and a delectable array of confections were passed during a conversational hour. Invited to meet the visitors were: Miss Marguerite Lamkin, Miss Esther Ewing, Miss Helen Todd, Miss Lydia Jarmon and Miss Beverly Martin.

Miss Esther Ewing's compliment was an informal afternoon of cards at the home of her parents on Island Drive. During the ensuing social hour a variety of delicious confections were served.

Mrs. Gunby's swimming party and supper in the gardens of her home was another event of interest bringing a few members of the younger set together complementarily to the visitors.

Mrs. C. J. Moseley's beautifully appointed luncheon honoring Mrs. Roy W. Nichols who left the city last week for her new home in Florida brought a few intimates together to bid her goodbye.

The luncheon table, overlaid with handsome white damask, had for central ornamentation a graceful crystal swan with container overflowing with pink sweet peas and blue corn flowers. A delicious four course luncheon followed by demi tasse served in the living room was served to: Mrs. Nichols, Mrs. Charles Lancaster, Mrs. Floyd A. Decker, Mrs. Courtney Ryland, Mrs. S. A. Johnson.

Mrs. Moseley presented Mrs. Nichols with a gift of Princeton china.

Miss Cornelia Heron's breakfast party honoring last week's bride, Miss Sue McBride claimed prominence among the many charming events of recent date.

Cape jasmine floating in oblong crystal receptacle placed on a large oval reflector formed the central decor of the silver served, damask covered table.

The place reserved for the guest of honor was marked with a gift of silver in the Chantilly pattern.

A three course breakfast was served at 9:30 to Miss McBride and members of her bridal party.

Mrs. Edward Hayward Jr., who was summoned to Monroe by the illness of her mother, Mrs. Annie Culpepper, who underwent a major operation at the Vaughan-Wright-Bendall Clinic, will return to Austin, Texas, today. Lieutenant Hayward is stationed at Camp Swift. Friends will be glad to know that Mrs. Culpepper is now convalescing nicely.

A small wagon covered with fresh flowers and ribbons in harmonizing colors was weighted down with gifts for Miss Sue McBride in the home of Mrs. John R. Goodlett who entertained with a miscellaneous shower for this popular bride elect. Mrs. Casewell

WOULD YOU LIKE TO LIFT THE VEIL that separates today from yesterday? Just cross the threshold of THE QUIANT HOUSE and you are in another world... a world of enchantment where glamorous things associated with yesterday are all around you. This shop established by MRS. H. C. MIZE in Old Trenton is steeped in antiquity... the hand carved banisters were found in a church in Marion, La. built long before the Civil War... the doors of solid cypress once graced a palatial plantation home on the banks of the Ouachita. At THE QUIANT HOUSE you are surrounded with historic "GONE WITH THE WIND" lamps... Victorian sofas... four-poster beds of wood design... a whole old lamp brought over from Italy 160 years ago... anti-quated pieces of china and glass... a rare old ladies' chair... many things associated with the south of long ago. If you want to lose yourself for awhile visit THE QUIANT HOUSE.

YOU CAN'T MEASURE THE SUCCESS OF A dinner party by the number of guests present, by the silver or the china... you must have the right kind of food and especially the right kind of bread, rolls, cakes, pies and other confections. The right kind is found at the CITY BAKERY where L. P. McCarthy prides himself on catering to the needs of those who demand the very best. Perhaps you are going to need a very special birthday cake in the near future. Let the CITY BAKERY concoct one for you... you will be thrilled with it. You will also be thrilled with the little individual cakes they turn out for special occasions. The pies are simply mouth-watering. Drop by the CITY BAKERY this afternoon and take one home... your dessert problem will be solved.

WEDDING TO REMEMBER... dreams come true and spin themselves into cherished memories when the FLOWER SHOP takes your wedding in hand and guides you smoothly along your way. With unruffled calm MAT HIRSCH and ROWENA ARANT will make your dreams come true with a wedding bouquet especially designed for YOU. A wedding bouquet is a poem... something to inspire and to dream about through the years... it is something that reflects the individuality of the bride who carries it. Trust these artists to create a masterpiece whatever the cost... no order is too small or too big for them to handle. Remember the FLOWER SHOP is one of Monroe's oldest establishments and is recognized as one of the most reliable flower shops in the state. By the way, a corsage for any occasion awaits you at the FLOWER SHOP. And remember, please, flowers for anniversaries are a specialty of the house.

SUMMER'S BLOOM IS ON THE ROSE... flowers are also blooming on those beautiful cotton dresses now on display at the RUTH SHOP... our advice to you is to hurry, hurry, hurry, before it is too late. You must have one of those flower dresses or perhaps one of those white cotton lace models... a pastel frock perhaps with harmonizing accessories that you from stock. Young things and those not so young find the summer days much more enjoyable since they have formed the habit of dropping in at the RUTH SHOP to be outfitted. MR. JAFFE has never, in all his years of experience selected for his customers a more distinctive array of summer dresses. The supply is perhaps more limited than in years past but they have never been so beautiful. Cool magic for a summer's night are the sheer frocks MR. JAFFE has just purchased. The white velvet pique frocks are as cool looking as the daisies nodding in your garden.

NOW LET'S GET RIGHT DOWN TO FACTS. How do you go about making yourself a truly lovely person? Do you visit Monroe's expert beautician, MARIE WAMSLEY, regularly? We are giving you this valuable tip just in case you don't know how to make the most of your charms. With beautiful smooth shining coiffures a part of the loveliness today... make sure you visit MARIE WAMSLEY with the utmost regularity. Don't stand idly by and admire others who come forth this shop rejuvenated and glowing with a new health-looking beauty... visit this shop and you will be able to present to the world undreamed of beauty. All make-up is used by MARIE WAMSLEY with an artist's touch.

POP'S A GRAND GUY! NICE PHRASE ISN'T IT? But the best way to make him know you mean it is to give him a he-man gift from MOORE'S TAILORING SHOP on Father's Day... give him one of the little gifts he would like to have but never buys for himself. Here are a few suggestions... a leather bilfold, a pair of snappy pajamas for summer wear, a plastic belt, monogrammed handkerchiefs, socks, ties, sport and dress shirts, a Panama hat, shoes, and last but not least an order for a suit expertly tailored and cut to measure by Monroe's expert tailor. All these things await you at MOORE'S SHOP. No need to look elsewhere... you will find just what you want at MOORE'S. And don't forget all you femmes, a summer suit in any color you desire in wrinkle proof material will be expertly tailored for you at MOORE'S TAILORING SHOP.

DON'T MAKE AN ENGAGEMENT FOR JUNE 12. You have a date with two talented young danseuses... Clarice and Goldan Roan. They are presenting their dance pupils in annual REVUE and we say without fear of contradiction that the event will be one of the most colorful, most fantastic ever presented in Monroe. One hundred dancers, skilled in acrobatics, the ballet, adagio and all forms of interpretive dancing will tap the boards. The costumes personally designed by Misses ROAN are really something to rave about. However you must see for yourself. The scenes will be shifted continuously... there will be no long pauses between dances and above all there will be dash, verve, excitement and thrills.

WITH THIS RING I THEE WED. Young bridegrooms-to-be are hanging over the counter at the R AND A these June days gazing at the wedding rings and dreaming of the hour when they can place one on HER finger. While bridegrooms are selecting diamond engagement rings and wedding rings prospective brides are selecting their silver from this reliable firm. An integral part of the bride's life are the keepsakes purchased from the R AND A... antique pins, necklaces, bracelets and watches. Happy the bride who receives as a wedding gift the black onyx necklace and pearl-studded pendant we recently saw on display at the R AND A. Young man don't select your engagement ring, wedding ring or silver until you have consulted SAM RUBIN or L. E. DUCOTE. And don't forget to select a gift for that grand guy, your father, at the R AND A.

A GRACIOUS, SMILING HOSTESS... DOROTHY ROSS greets all guests at the ARCADE these nights. And you can't imagine what it means to strangers to be personally welcomed. MRS. ROSS has taken over the management of the ARCADE so that her husband, TOM ROSS could take over another form of business. Perfect teamwork don't you think? Well, at any rate the ARCADE is growing in popularity by leaps and bounds and needs an alert, wide-awake person like DOROTHY ROSS to keep an eye on things. She is booking some of the finest orchestras in the country for future engagements.

ARE YOUR BROWS FURROWED WITH MOVING problems... what a pity. It is all so unnecessary when all you have to do is to call FAULK-COLLIER and tell them your troubles. Their experienced men work like magic... before you have gained your breath your household possessions have been crated and packed and on their way to their destination. If it is a matter of storing certain articles that worries you, just call yourself. The FAULK-COLLIER bonded warehouse was established in Monroe for just such a purpose. When your household goods are packed away in the big vans operated by FAULK-COLLIER they never fail to arrive in perfect condition regardless of the distance traveled. Don't take a chance when your worldly possessions are at stake.

ARE YOU IN THE MOOD FOR AN EVENING OF FRIVOLITY? If so you have only to open the hospitable doors at the CASCADE where the glad hand of goodfellowship awaits you. There are no strangers in this popular cocktail lounge. It is where good friends get together over long, tall frosted glasses and exchange pleasantries. HARRY STOUGH possesses the faculty of creating an atmosphere of comradeship and is famed for the kind of drinks he serves. Just express a desire for a certain something and he will mix it for you with great pride. And you can bet your life the drink will be the best one that ever gurgled down your parched throat... there is unlimited enjoyment in every drop. The CASCADE is cool and shadowy on the hottest summer evening!... remember the cocktail hour is 6 o'clock.

JUNE DAYS... PERFECT DAYS! But not so perfect when you are handicapped with aching feet. With as much to be done these days it is necessary to have the correct shoes... these can be found at KEENE'S SHOE SHOP. Women the world over who appreciate the better things buy KEENE'S shoes. These shoes with the age-old trademark are blessed with careful craftsmanship and assure lasting comfort... neat classic designs that keep you smartly in step with fashion. There are those who prefer LADY FASHION shoes found only at KEENE'S. But whatever your choice you will literally dance a jig of joy after your foot problems have been solved by wearing these famous shoes. RED GOOSE shoes for children are steadily gaining in popularity... children have worn a path to this store where they demand the Red Goose shoes. After you buy your shoes ask the salesman to show you the distinctive summer bags and costume jewelry and the kind of hose found only at KEENE'S.

Girl Scouts Return From Camp Ki-Ro-Li

Mrs. Rowe Conducts Ceremonies Marking End Of Enjoyable Outing At Camp

Three hundred Girl Scouts of the Twin Cities returned from the rally at Camp Ki-Ro-Li, tired but happy and proud in praise of the character building program, inaugurated at this time. There is something very satisfying and beautiful about a Girl Scout ceremonial and especially when it takes place out of doors on a perfect day in June with all nature inspiring to make the day an unforgettable one.

The ceremonies took place on a grassy knoll beneath the towering trees with Mrs. P. G. Rowe, Quaila Parish Girl Scout Council commissioner, serving as master of ceremonies. She had the following remarks to make: "An annual rally is something that will be looked forward to each year by the Scouts. It gives each Scout the feeling that she belongs to something big and it so cements a friendship among Scouts of other troops." Mrs. Rowe said further that the local council now had 16 registered troops and more than 225 girls. She then gave the National Girl Scout slogan, "Girl Scout Builds Character, Character Builds a Better World."

Mrs. Rowe introduced Miss Myrtle Rogers who opened the program with short prayer. The opening ceremony is the salute to the American flag. The Girl Scout promise and law was read and the colors were advanced. Mrs. Rogers led the Scouts in singing the National Anthem. Mr. Gardner Young, finance chairman for Girl Scouts and a few words to the Scouts. Mrs. Brownie Rogers gave their "Hy-z-up" ceremony which means they had reached the age of becoming immediate Scouts.

At this point in the program Anna Johnson, a ten-year-old Brownie Scout, made the presentation address for the Thanks Badge which was given to Miss Myrtle Rogers.

Mrs. Duncan, the former Miss Norma Gayle Mayo, whose marriage to Lieutenant Duncan was an event of recent date.

Miss Mary Hammonds And Charles Brooks Wed

Interest is centered in the announcement of the marriage of Miss Mary C. Hammonds and Mr. Charles D. Brooks, May 20 at the Baptist parsonage, with Rev. L. T. Hastings, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiating.

Mrs. Brooks was attended by her sister, Miss Iva Hammonds. The groom was attended by his brother James M. Brooks. The bride wore a lovely afternoon model of white lace with blue accessories. Her corsage was of orchids. Her attendant wore pink lace with a corsage of carnations.

Mrs. Brooks is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Hammonds of Choudrant. She attended Louisiana Tech at Ruston and for some time has been employed by the Interstate Natural Gas Company of Monroe.

Mr. Brooks is the son of Mrs. J. L. Brooks and the late Mr. Brooks of West Monroe. He is a graduate of Ouachita Parish High School and was recently discharged from the armed forces, having served in the southwest Pacific. Since his discharge he has been in the employ of the United Gas Pipe Line Company of Monroe. Mr. and Mrs. Brooks are making their home at present with the groom's mother in West Monroe.

Miss Patsy Livingston of Bayville, La., left Thursday, June 8 for Baton Rouge to matriculate for the summer term at Louisiana State University. She graduated this month from Northeast Junior College as a journalism major and plans to continue work in this field at L. S. U.

Girl Scouts Return From Camp Ki-Ro-Li

Mrs. Rowe Conducts Ceremonies Marking End Of Enjoyable Outing At Camp

Three hundred Girl Scouts of the Twin Cities returned from the rally at Camp Ki-Ro-Li, tired but happy and in praise of the character building program, inaugurated at this time. There is something very satisfying and beautiful about a Girl Scout ceremonial and especially when it takes place out of doors on a perfect day in June with all nature conspiring to make the day an unforgettable one.

The ceremonies took place on a grassy knoll beneath the towering trees with Mrs. P. G. Rowe, Ouachita Parish Girl Scout Council Commissioner, serving as master of ceremonies. She had the following remarks to make: "An annual rally is something that will be looked forward to each year by the Scouts. A rally gives each Scout the feeling that she belongs to something big and it also cements a friendship among Scouts of other troops." Mrs. Rowe said that the local council had 16 registered troops and more than 225 girls. She then gave the National Girl Scout slogan, "Girl Scout Builds Character, Character Builds a Better World."

Mrs. Rowe introduced Miss Myrtle Rodgers who opened the program with short prayer. The opening ceremony was the salute to the American flag. The Girl Scout promise and law was given and the colors were advanced. Mrs. Meding led the Scouts in singing the National Anthem. Mr. Gardner Young, finance chairman for Girl Scouts said a few words to the Scouts. Our Brownie troops gave their "fly-up" ceremony which means they had reached the age of becoming intermediate Scouts.

At this point in the program Anna Mary Johnson, a ten-year-old Brownie Scout, made the presentation address for the Thanks Badge which was given to Miss Myrtle Rodgers.

Mrs. Rowe explained that a Thanks Badge is something that cannot be given to just anyone. "The person receiving this badge must have contributed something outstanding to scouting. The request for this badge must go through national headquarters for their approval. The Girl Scouts, their leaders, troop committees and council members all feel that Miss Rodgers has been the guiding spirit of scouting in this area." The presentation speech by Anna Mary Johnson was beautifully and impressively delivered.

Troop 13 of the Neville School under the leadership of Mrs. Estelle Wedner gave a folk dance on the green. Miss Sara Pankay from the Crosley School awarded second class rank badges to her troop. This troop has the distinction of being the first to be awarded second class rank. Mrs. Meding led the Scouts in singing and the program closed with "Taps" and the hand clasp circle.

All in all it was a wonderful occasion for Girl Scouts and their parents. Mrs. Rowe thanked everybody for their part in making the rally a success.

Troop leaders and Girl Scouts attending the rally were:

JACK CURTIS ON CARD THIS WEEK

Former World's Light-Heavy Champion Will Meet Olsen On Mat Here

Jack Curtis, former world's light heavyweight wrestling champion and one of the most popular grapplers ever to appear in Monroe, will return to Gus Kallio's arena Thursday night for the main event battle with Al "Tuffy" Olsen, Kansas City.

"I have been fortunate in getting Curtis for this match," Kallio said last night, "and Olsen, here last Thursday and knowing I was trying to get Curtis, asked for the opposition role."

Kallio quoted Olsen as describing Curtis as a "has-been" who has slipped plenty since he dropped his championship belt to LeRoy McGuirk nearly two years ago.

"I'd like a chance to whip Curtis," Olsen said. "He was a good wrestler once but just a has-been now."

But regardless of what the tattooed man from Kansas City might have to say about Curtis' present condition there are plenty of ring fans in this section who'll maintain the ex-champion still has plenty of speed and power and that it will be a sorry

Thursday night for Olsen when the two battlers tangle.

For his semi-final match Promoter Kallio is billing a return match between Pat Conley, New Orleans, and Tony Conales, Mexico City.

Conley, referee here throughout the spring season, met Conales for the first time last week and was beaten in a bout that went three falls.

Even in defeat, however, Conley looked impressive and the fact that he has been learning a few tricks from Kallio, the old middleweight master, has him confident he can whip the Mexican.

Conley requested the return match, Kallio said, and is determined to give the swarthy Mexican a beating this time.

"I have been showing Pat a few more holds since he met Conales. He has been learning a few tricks from the few tricks I have shown him, and I believe he'll look even better this week," Kallio said.

ON THE TRAIL

WITH BILL GEAGAN
(Associated Press Feature Service)

Fishing is the most restful and healthful of all recreational activities. And it doesn't make any difference whether you're dunking worm-baited bars for the lowly bullhead on a weedy farm pond or tangling with the mighty marlin of the broad Pacific.

In these trying times when all of us are doubling up in office, shop and factory, we must make the most of what leisure we have to rest weary minds and bodies and to restore energy.

If you can't take a long trip, take a short one. Get into some old clothes, snatch your fishing tackle, a bit of lunch and be off to lake or stream.

Listen to the restful gurgling of the tumbling stream or the lapping of the waves on the rocky shore. There in the golden sunshine and fresh air, relax completely and be rested and entertained by the sweet symphony of the birds.

Meal In The Open

Another thing that adds much to a day in the open is a meal prepared over an open fire on the shore. Dress a few of your smaller fish, roll them in corn meal and salt pork or bacon, and fry slowly to a crisp brown. Stuff a few potatoes into the deep bed of the fire until they are soft and snow-white inside the blackened jackets. And brew some tea in the old fireblackened pot or pan. It'll be a meal for a king, and you'll return home refreshed and better fitted for the job ahead the next day.

Although the dry fly purist frowns on it, worming for brook trout is good sport and on those streams that are fished hard, considerable skill is required if the angler hopes to fill his creel.

The brook trout is one of the warriest of all fishes. And the harder the brook is fished the more difficult it is to entice the speckled one to come out of hiding and take a slam at the worm-baited barb.

Stay Out Of Sight

It should be remembered that if you can see a trout, that trout can see you. Bank vibrations caused by careless walking will send the wary trout scurrying for cover. The proper procedure for successful fishing, particularly on a brook that is fished hard, is to approach the pools fox-like, and always with the sun in your face. This is to prevent your shadow from falling across the water. Crouch low, well back from the water as far as your rod will permit.

One fat worm loosely looped on the small snelled hook is better than a tangled gob. The trout, like the lowly sucker, is a bottom feeder and, if after dropping your bait into the brook it is not snatched by a trout, sink the bait to the bottom and allow it to remain there several minutes.

A gadget that helps is a tiny spinner attached just above the snell and below the split hookshot sinker. Raising the rod tip slowly now and then will cause the spinner to flash and the wriggling worm to stir up a bit of bottom silt. This attracts the trout.

Release The Little Ones

Do not wear white or light colored clothing. Move quietly and keep out of sight. Fish slowly and you'll take trout, and good ones, even from little brooks that are supposed to be "fished out."

As a measure of conservation all fishes not measuring to the legal limit should be released as carefully as possible. Wet your hands, then holding the fish gently, remove the hook with care and place the undersized fish back in the water. A fish grasped tightly in a dry hand will remove the protective slime, and the fish usually will die a short time later.

Protect the little ones now and you'll catch big ones later.

The Army Service Forces (formerly Services of Supply) is the organization charged with supplying the Army with all services and material including transportation, keeping personnel records and supplying mail service.

PIRATES WHIP CUBS
PITTSBURGH, June 10.—(AP)—Elwin (Preacher) Roe handcuffed the Chicago Cubs for five innings today to win his fourth victory of the season, 9 to 4, and give the Pittsburgh Pirates a game and a half lead over Cincinnati and second place in the National League.

His mates blasted three Cub hurlers for 16 hits, including a triple by Bob Elliott and four straight singles by Frank Zak, rookie shortstop.

The game was a playoff of last night's 3-3 tie halted in the eleventh inning by rain.

GERMANS

In high places everywhere it appeared that master Soviet strokes could not be deferred much longer if they were not already under way.

The Finnish army community broke the first word of the reported new offensive, declaring that the Russians early yesterday morning started a general offensive on the Karelian

Isthmus supported by "particularly heavy artillery fire and strong air forces."

"Attacks made at various places were repulsed except for a few small and limited penetrations," the bulletin said. "The enemy sustained considerable losses in killed and more than 10 tanks were destroyed. Our fighters and anti-aircraft defense shot down a total of 24 enemy planes."

"The battle continues."

The German Transocean Commentator Von Olberg said the Berlin radio that it was "too early to judge what tactical and strategic significance can be attached to this blow," but he said that it might well be the initial swing of a Soviet sled-hammer assault developing across the entire eastern front.

5TH LOAN DRIVE

reasonable for the government to ask us to lend them our money at a substantial rate of interest to supply our boys with the finest equipment in order to insure victory at the soonest possible date."

Ouchita parish, as well as other communities over the nation, will conduct an intensive drive to obtain its quota. The drive will be officially opened tomorrow with a broadcast from Texarkana, Ark.-Tex., by Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr. and a cast of movie stars.

Several features to spur bond buying here have been planned, according to Mr. Oakley. On June 20 a show will be presented by a cast from Camp Claiborne at Neville High School when a number of outstanding entertainers, now stationed at Claiborne, will be featured. Persons who purchase a War Bond at any of the issuing agencies before the date of the show will be given tickets. Later, Selman Field will also present a program at Neville, with the purchase of a bond also providing an admission ticket.

Other attractive promotional features of the campaign will be announced during the progress of the drive, Mr. Oakley said.

INDIVIDUAL BOND-BUYER WILL TAKE SPOTLIGHT

WASHINGTON, June 10.—(AP)—The individual bond-buyer will take the spotlight Monday as the treasury launches its $16,000,000,000 Fifth War Loan drive.

The goal for individual purchasers is $5,000,000,000—nearly $1,000,000,000 more than they invested during the Fourth War Loan.

Only individual sales will be reported in figures on the drive until June

BETZ, SEGURA ARE TOP-SEEDED AGES

National Clay Court Tennis Tourney Opens Monday At Detroit

DETROIT, June 10.—(AP)—Pauline Betz, the strawberry blond from Los Angeles, and colorful little Francisco (Pancho) Segura of Miami, Fla., were top-seeded today in the 34th national clay court tournament that opens a week's stand Monday at the Detroit Tennis Club.

Miss Betz, who added the clay court title last year at Detroit to her two national lawn championships, was placed atop a list of eight seeded players. Nancy Corbett of River Forest, Ill., 1943 runner-up to Miss Betz, was ranged seventh, indicating the high quality of the feminine field.

Segura, dashing Ecuadorian with the two-fisted drive, drew the top spot ahead of Billy Talbert of Indianapolis, who lost a four-set final match last year to Seymour Greenberg of Chicago. Greenberg, now an army air force lieutenant at Lowry Field, Colo., was unable to arrange leave to seek his third successive clay title.

Doris Hart of Miami is No. 2 behind Miss Betz, followed in order by Dorothy May Bundy, New York; Mary Arnold, Los Angeles; Shirley Fry, Akron, O.; Catherine Wolf, Elkhart, Ind.; Miss Corbett, and Constance Clifton of Miami.

Segura and Talbert are followed by Rex Norris of Lansing, Mich.; Ray Gibson, Hobart Whobbel and Hubert Manire, of Detroit; and Richard Warner and Robert Lewis of Salt Lake City.

Segura and Miss Betz have first 2d, after which bond-sellers will concentrate on other non-banking investors for their quota of $10,000,000,000. Commercial banks' purchases will not be credited to the drive.

Monday, designated as "Civilian Day," will find Treasury Secretary Morgenthau heading ceremonies at Texarkana, on the Texas-Arkansas border, focal point for the start of the four-week drive.

At 10 p. m. EWT, Monday, President Roosevelt will join with other officials and a group of screen, stage and radio stars in an hour-long broadcast over four major radio networks.

round byes. Miss Hart is paired Monday with hard-hitting Joanne Dunn of Des Moines, Iowa, in the day's feature match. Talbert's opening opponent is Edward Donovan of Detroit.

The tournament has an entry of 73 players, 46 in the men's division, representing an increase of nearly 50 per cent over last year. Eleven states are represented—California, Florida, Georgia, New York, Utah, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Iowa, Indiana and Michigan.

While the field is much stronger, Miss Betz is an overwhelming favorite for the women's crown. She swept through the 1943 tournament with the loss of only six games while taking eight straight sets.

Three Hundred Thousand Strong

IT'S HARD to get three hundred thousand Army trucks into any kind of picture. They take up as much room as several million soldiers . . . Of course they are now scattered all over the world behind the battle lines and on the fighting fronts. They range from the husky six-wheeled BIG SHOT down to the smaller weapons carriers and command reconnaissance cars. They include thirty thousand ambulances—official Army vehicles of medical rescue on practically every front . . . We have tried to build these Army trucks to give the officers and men who are doing the real fighting the dependable support they deserve. All of these Army trucks are direct descendants of the famous Dodge Job-Rated Trucks you see today faithfully hauling milk, foodstuffs, fuel, production materials and other wartime essentials.

We have been authorized to produce 1½ and 2-ton DODGE Job-Rated TRUCKS for rationing to purchasers for essential wartime civilian use. See your Dodge dealer.

Remember to dial your CBS station Thursday, 9 P.M. E.W.T. You'll enjoy Major Bowes and his Amateurs.

PRaise GIVEN TO RED CROSS

Lieut. Kelly Says They Have Brought Cheer To Lonely Hearts

LA. W. L. Kelly, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. G. Kelly, 515 Cole avenue, Monroe, is back from 12 months spent with the 215th coast artillery in the Aleutian Islands, and is pronounced in his praise of the magnificent job that the Red Cross is performing for men in armed service. He said that when Christmas came it was the kindly, humanitarian touch of the Red Cross that made the men feel that this group is really a second mother to the men. Christmas trees, and a great variety of presents dear to the hearts of the lonesome men, far from home and kindred, were in abundance.

"I was, at the outset, decidedly hostile to the Red Cross but I was made a complete convert," the lieutenant declared. "Never again can I be anything but a big booster for the work that Red Cross performs. They can never receive too much praise for their efforts," he concluded. "The latest periodicals were obtained for us in the Aleutians as soon as it was found that we were not receiving other than old, out of date publications."

The USO and Red Cross saw that movies and radio were provided and also some of the starlets from Hollywood came to the Aleutians, he said. Joe E. Brown was personally the one who saw that late movies were furnished and sometimes they saw shows even before they were released in the States, the lieutenant said. Kelly attended Northeast Junior College and went with the national guard when they left Monroe. He will shortly complete his pilot training and will in eight weeks receive his wings at Douglas, Ariz.

The Aleutians are far warmer than the Alaskan mainland, he said and the lowest temperature he saw there was five degrees below zero. In winter, daylight is from 11 a. m. to 2:30 p. m. and in a year he saw but 15 sunny days with the other days shrouded in fog. Skating and skiing were available for many months. Few natives were there and they were the Aleuts who are a peaceable tribe of Indians who aided the American troops when possible. They are devoted to salmon fishing and are also in the seal industry. Many were moved back toward the mainland but will now be able to return to their former homes.

NEW LOUISIANA BOOK RECOGNIZED

FERRIDAY, La., June 10.—(Special)—James Pipes Register, whose ten years as a clerk in a country store in Louisiana on Lake St. John, near Ferriday, gave him the material for "Ziba," the book on the Negroes of Louisiana's swamplands, which was published recently by the University of Oklahoma Press, has been granted a Julius Rosenwald fellowship, according to an announcement made in Chicago by Edwin R. Embree, president of the fund.

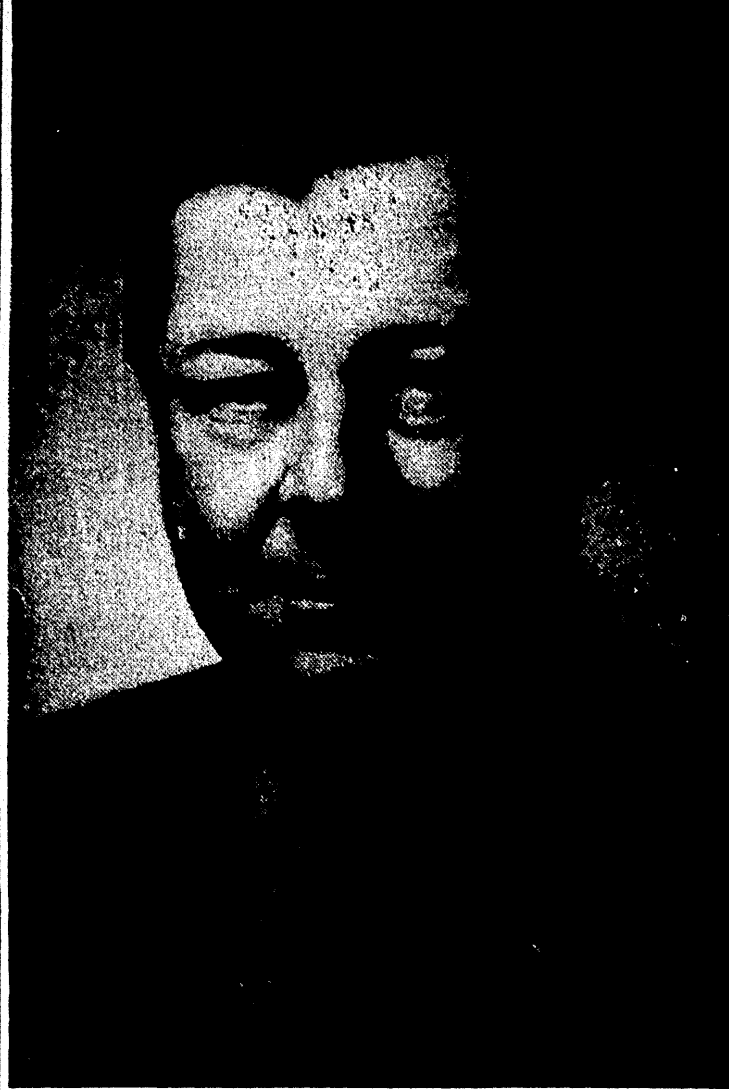

The fellowship will make it possible for Register to continue his writing during the year. He will devote his time to the preparation of a book on the Negro as a workman.

In announcing the grant to Register, the Rosenwald fund calls attention to the author's literary achievement in "Ziba" which has been widely praised for its authenticity as well as its beauty by both Negro and white folk. William Rose Bone, reviewing it earlier in "The Saturday Review of Literature," spoke of it as the greatest treasury of the American Negro since "Green Pastures."

Register was one of 37 creative writers selected from the United States as a whole to receive the Rosenwald fellowship. Their average value is $1,700.

NEW SELMAN FIELD C. O.

Col. W. H. Reid last week became the sixth commanding officer of Selman field, replacing Col. F. E. Galloway who left here for an assignment at Fort Benning, Ga. Colonel Reid came to Selman from Ellington field, Tex., where he was in charge since its activation at the start of the war.

CHILD WELFARE COUNCIL TO MEET

Foster Care Problem To Be Studied At Tuesday's
Meeting

The Child Welfare Council will meet at the Frances Hotel on Tuesday evening at 8 p. m. The council has been studying for several meetings some of the needs and welfare of children in this parish. At the last meeting G. S. Manning, principal of Calhoun High School, spoke on some of the community aspects of the "Foster Care Program" and gave an interesting review of several types of situations and problems that may occur to affect the foster child's adjustment in school and in the community. Some interesting and valuable projects under the leadership of Mrs. D. A. Nicol, chairman of social service committee, were presented: the collection of clothing for use in emergency situations; a survey of the parish to estimate present needs for temporary detention facilities and a receiving home for infants; a survey to locate and develop resources to meet the needs of such specialized foster homes as detention facilities.

At the meeting this Tuesday evening, June 13, a series of interesting and educational talks on "Adoption" will be started. Mrs. Lila W. Graves, child welfare consultant for the area, will discuss "The Social Aspects of Adoption."

ORSON WELLES AND SECRETARY SHAKEN

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., June 10.—(AP)—Hollywood Producer Orson Welles and his secretary, Mrs. Shifra Haran, were shaken up but not injured early today when their horse-drawn landau was in collision with an automobile in the center of downtown Hot Springs.

The horses lost their harness and the carriage was damaged an estimated $50. Welles and Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau stopped off here yesterday to overhaul the script for the National Radio Show which will inaugurate the Fifth War Loan Drive at Texarkana.

SOME GERMANS IN NORMANDY PANICKY

LONDON, June 10.—(AP)—Some Germans in Normandy are so panicky they seek to surrender at the very approach of Allied troops, an R. A. F. Bomber crew discovered.

The R. A. F. crew, forced down after towing a glider to France, was captured and locked up in a chateau. Canadian forces advanced toward the chateau—and the Nazi guards surrendered to their prisoners.

The R. A. F. crew walked into an Allied command post with a dozen prisoners.

NO ADDED WORD FROM WAR CAMP

MacArthur's Office So Informs
S. H. McReynolds
Here

S. H. McReynolds has just received the following reply to a letter he sent to General MacArthur asking for any additional news to be had concerning his son, Capt. S. H. McReynolds, held a prisoner by the Japs in the Philippines:

"General Headquarters Southwest Pacific Area, Office of Commander in Chief,"

"Mr. S. H. McReynolds, Monroe, La."

"Dear Mr. McReynolds: "General MacArthur desires me to answer your letter of April 26 regarding your son, Capt. Samuel McReynolds Jr. A section in this headquarters which deals solely with Philippine affairs has Captain McReynolds listed as a prisoner of war, but no additional information. "Brigadier General Marquat, who commanded our artillery in the Philippines, informed me that he does not personally know Captain McReynolds, and his only information is that he was last seen in average health in a prison camp in the Philippines. "General MacArthur wishes me to assure you that his sole ambition is to free the Philippines and our officers and men held prisoner there and that our forces are steadily and surely advancing to that goal." Sincerely, (Signed) "LOYD LEHRBAS, (Colonel, A. C. Acting Aide-de-Camp)"

DR. BARKER TO ADDRESS TECH

Columbia University Faculty
Member To Address
Graduates

RUSTON, June 10.—(Special)—Dr. Joseph Warren Barker, dean of the college of engineering at Columbia University and a special assistant to the secretary of the navy, will be the commencement speaker at Louisiana Tech on Wednesday morning, June 21, it has been announced by Pres. Chubbuck Cottingham.

Dean Barker is a graduate of Massachusetts Institute of Technology and has served on the faculties of his alma mater and of Lehigh University since 1920. He served with the American expeditionary forces in France and Germany during the last war and advanced from second lieutenant to major in the coast artillery. He was decorated with the victory medal (United States army), and with the Order of Prince Darino of Montenegro.

Dean Barker has held many high offices with professional societies and has been closely associated with the navy V-12 program.

NINE VOLUNTEER TO GO TO WAVES

Nine more Louisiana girls have volunteered for the WAVES, the women's reserve of the navy, and will report to the naval training school, Bronx, N. Y., for basic training and indoctrination on June 15. It was announced today by Lt. Com. Kenneth C. Elliott, officer in charge of navy recruiting in Louisiana.

The group includes Misses Corinne Cecile Bienvenu, 617 Madison street; Irene Rita Comeaux, 304 St. Patrick street; and Jeanette Letty Judice, R. F. D. Route 3, Box 17, all of Lafayette, La.; Roberta Anne Gannaway, 209 Louise Avenue, Monroe, La.; Jeanne Anne Henry, 830 High street; and Ethel Ann Porche, 139 McKinley, both of Houma, La.; Maxine Montgomery, Pollock, La.; Mary Velta Sourez, Box 255, Erath, La.; and Hazel Leigh Rodgers, 1427 Second street, Alexandria, La.

Thousands more volunteers are needed in the WAVES. Girls between the ages of 20 and 36, with at least two years' high school or business school training, are eligible. Girls in this age bracket are urged to contact their nearest navy recruiting station or office of naval officer procurement for further particulars.

POST WAR PLANS ARE BEING LISTED

Redoubling their efforts to bring the employer's work pile survey to a close during the coming week, 182 local businessmen are contacting 1,326 employers in Ouachita parish. Each employer is asked to fill in a nine-item questionnaire about his post-war intentions. From the two hundred questionnaires already returned to the Chamber of Commerce office, it is indicated that there is a large backlog of construction plans awaiting post-war fulfillment. Nearly all employers express a willingness to give jobs to disabled war veterans.

Henry Beidenharn, chairman of the committee directing the survey, has requested that all employers answer the questions carefully, and that the businessmen distributing the forms make every effort to return them to the Chamber of Commerce office this week.

To the People of Ouachita Parish and The Twin Cities:

On June the 5th, this year, I again took the oath of office of Sheriff of this Parish. Much progress has been made since I became your Sheriff twenty years ago. At that time, the population of the Twin Cities and the Parish was about 35,000; now it is approximately 62,000. The assessed valuation of property on which taxes are collected is $45,590,972.00. The Tax Collecting and Civil Departments are modern in every respect. The office did not have a fingerprint system, but now there are more than ten thousand active fingerprint files. There were no records pertaining to the activities of the criminal element; at present, there are thousands of files consisting of confessions, statements, reports, photographs and other valuable information. The number of prisoners has increased from twelve to an average of fifty-five per day. The jail is sanitary and is inspected at regular intervals by a representative of the Federal Government. The Sheriff's Department operates four radio equipped cars capable of receiving calls at all points in the parish from various stations. The law enforcing division never closes. A deputy sheriff is on duty at all times to receive and direct calls. He can be contacted from five o'clock P. M. to seven o'clock A. M. by calling telephone number 72 or 73. In every other respect this department has kept abreast with the times and changes pertaining to law enforcement and is second to none. All of the work has greatly increased. I am going to continue to maintain a modern office, to faithfully discharge the duties, and I respectfully ask for your prayers and co-operation for a successful administration during the next four years.

FERRIDAY, La., June 10.—(Special)—James Pipes Register, whose ten years as a clerk in a country store in Louisiana on Lake St. John, near Ferriday, gave him the material for "Ziba," the book on the Negroes of Louisiana's swamplands, which was published recently by the University of Oklahoma Press, has been granted a Julius Rosenwald fellowship, according to an announcement made in Chicago by Edwin R. Embree, president of the fund.

The fellowship will make it possible for Register to continue his writing during the year. He will devote his time to the preparation of a book on the Negro as a workman.

In announcing the grant to Register, the Rosenwald fund calls attention to the author's literary achievement in "Ziba" which has been widely praised for its authenticity as well as its beauty by both Negro and white folk-ers. William Rose Bonet, reviewing it earlier in "The Saturday Review of Literature," spoke of it as the greatest treasury of the American Negro since "Greer Pastures."

Register was one of 37 creative writers selected from the United States as a whole to receive the Rosenwald fellowship. Their average value is $1,700.

NEW SELMAN FIELD C. O.

Col. W. H. Reid last week became the sixth commanding officer of Selmman Field, replacing Col. F. E. Galloway who left here for an assignment at Fort Benning, Ga. Colonel Reid came to Selmman from Ellington field, Tex., where he was in charge since its activation at the start of the war.

CHILD WELFARE COUNCIL TO MEET

Foster Care Problem To Be
Studied At Tuesday's
Meeting

The Child Welfare Council will meet at the Frances Hotel on Tuesday evening at 8 p. m. The council has been studying for several meetings some of the needs and welfare of children in this parish. At the last meeting G. S. Manning, principal of Calhoun High School, spoke on some of the community aspects of the "Foster Care Program" and gave an interesting review of several types of situations and problems that may occur to affect the foster child's adjustment in school and in the community. Some interesting and valuable projects under the leadership of Mrs. D. A. Nicol, chairman of social service committee, were presented: the collection of clothing for use in emergency situations; a survey of the parish to estimate present needs for temporary detention facilities and a receiving home for infants; a survey to locate and develop resources to meet the needs of such specialized foster homes as detention facilities.

At the meeting this Tuesday evening, June 13, a series of interesting and educational talks on "Adoption" will be started. Mrs. Lila W. Graves, child welfare consultant for the area, will discuss: "The Social Aspects of Adoption."

ORSON WELLES AND SECRETARY SHAKEN

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., June 10.—(AP)—Hollywood Producer Orson Welles and his secretary, Mrs. Shifra Haran, were shaken up but not injured early today when their horse-drawn landau was in collision with an automobile in the center of downtown Hot Springs.

The horses lost their harness and the carriage was damaged an estimated $50. Welles and Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau stopped off here yesterday to overhaul the script for the National Radio Show which will inaugurate the Fifth War Loan Drive at Texarkana.

SOME GERMANS IN NORMANDY PANICKY

LONDON, June 10.—(AP)—Some Germans in Normandy are so panicky they seek to surrender at the very approach of Allied troops, an R. A. F. Bomber crew discovered.

The R. A. F. crew, forced down after towing a glider to France, was captured and locked up in a chateau, Canadian forces advanced toward the chateau—and the Nazi guards surrendered to their prisoners.

The R. A. F. crew walked into an Allied command post with a dozen prisoners.

NO ADDED WORD FROM WAR CAMP

MacArthur's Office So Informs
S. H. McReynolds
Here

S. H. McReynolds has just received the following reply to a letter he sent to General MacArthur asking for any additional news to be had concerning his son, Capt. S. H. McReynolds, held a prisoner by the Japs in the Philippines:

"General Headquarters Southwest Pacific Area, Office of Commander in Chief"

"Mr. S. H. McReynolds,

"Monroe, La.

"Dear Mr. McReynolds: "General MacArthur desires me to answer your letter of April 26 regarding your son, Capt. Samuel McReynolds Jr. A section in this headquarters which deals solely with Philippine affairs has Captain McReynolds listed as a prisoner of war, but no additional information. "Brigadier General Marquat, who commanded our artillery in the Philippines, informed me that he does not personally know Captain McReynolds, and his only information is that he was last seen in average health in a prison camp in the Philippines.

"General MacArthur wishes me to assure you that his sole ambition is to free the Philippines and our officers and men held prisoner there and that our forces are steadily and surely advancing to that goal."

"Sincerely,
(Signed) "LLOYD LEHRBAS,
(Colonel, A. C. Acting Aide-de-Camp)"

DR. BARKER TO ADDRESS TECH

Columbia University Faculty
Member To Address
Graduates

RUSTON, June 10.—(Special)—Dr. Joseph Warren Barker, dean of the college of engineering at Columbia University and a special assistant to the secretary of the navy, will be the commencement speaker at Louisiana Tech on Wednesday morning, June 21, it has been announced by Pres. Claybrook Cottingham.

Dean Barker is a graduate of Massachusetts Institute of Technology and has served on the faculties of his alma mater and of Lehigh University since 1930. He served with the American expeditionary forces in France and Germany during the last war and advanced from second lieutenant to major in the coast artillery. He was decorated with the victory medal (United States army), and with the Order of Prince Darlino of Montenegro.

Dean Barker has held many high offices with professional societies and has been closely associated with the navy V-12 program.

NINE VOLUNTEER TO GO TO WAVES

Nine more Louisiana girls have volunteered for the WAVES, the women's reserve of the navy, and will report to the naval training school, Bronx, N. Y., for basic training and indoctrination on June 15, it was announced today by Lt. Com. Kenneth C. Elliott, officer in charge of navy recruiting in Louisiana.

The group includes Misses Corinne Cecile Bienvenu, 611 Madison street; Irene Rita Comeaux, 304 St. Patrick street; and Jeanette Letty Judice, R. F. D. Route 3, Box 17, all of Lafayette, La.; Roberta Anne Gannaway, 209 Louise Anne avenue, Monroe, La.; Jeanne Anne Henry, 830 High street, and Ethel Ann Porche, 139 McKinley, both of Houma, La.; Maxine Montgomery, Pollock, La.; Mary Velte Soler, Box 285, Erath, La.; and Hazel Leigh Rodgers, 1427 Second street, Alexandria, La.

Thousands more volunteers are needed in the WAVES. Girls between the ages of 20 and 36, with at least two years' high school or business school training, are eligible. Girls in this age bracket are urged to contact their nearest navy recruiting station or office of naval officer procurement for further particulars.

POST WAR PLANS ARE BEING LISTED

Redoubling their efforts to bring the employer's work pile survey to a close during the coming week, 182 local businessmen are contacting 1,326 employers in Ouachita parish. Each employer is asked to fill in a nine-item questionnaire about his post-war intentions. From the two hundred questionnaires already returned to the Chamber of Commerce office, it is indicated that there is a large backlog of construction plans awaiting post-war fulfillment. Nearly all employers express a willingness to give jobs to disabled war veterans.

Henry Beidenharn, chairman of the committee directing the survey, has requested that all employers answer the questions carefully, and that the businessmen distributing the forms make every effort to return them to the Chamber of Commerce office this week.

To the People of Ouachita Parish and The Twin Cities:

On June the 5th, this year, I again took the oath of office of Sheriff of this Parish. Much progress has been made since I became your Sheriff twenty years ago. At that time, the population of the Twin Cities and the Parish was about 35,000; now it is approximately 62,000. The assessed valuation of property on which taxes are collected is $45,590,972.00. The Tax Collecting and Civil Departments are modern in every respect. The office did not have a fingerprint system, but now there are more than ten thousand active fingerprint files. There were no records pertaining to the activities of the criminal element; at present, there are thousands of files consisting of confessions, statements, reports, photographs and other valuable information. The number of prisoners has increased from twelve to an average of fifty-five per day. The jail is sanitary and is inspected at regular intervals by a representative of the Federal Government. The Sheriff's Department operates four radio equipped cars capable of receiving calls at all points in the parish from various stations. The law enforcing division never closes. A deputy sheriff is on duty at all times to receive and direct calls. He can be contacted from five o'clock P. M. to seven o'clock A. M. by calling telephone number 72 or 73. In every other respect this department has kept abreast with the times and changes pertaining to law enforcement and is second to none. All of the work has greatly increased. I am going to continue to maintain a modern office, to faithfully discharge the duties, and I respectfully ask for your prayers and co-operation for a successful administration during the next four years.

by EDGAR RICE BURROUGHS

STORY BY

TARZAN STOPPED SHORT. THE HEART-RENDING MOAN OUTSIDE THE PASSAGE SENT A SHUDDER THROUGH THE THROG.

THAISSA RAN AHEAD, CRYING: "WHERE IS MY FATHER IN THE GARDEN OF DEATH!"

AS THE GIRL TO DASH FROM THE PASSAGE, THE ATE-MAN STRYNTED FORWARD AND SEIZED HER.

"WAIT, THAISSA! DON MACABRE IS A CLEVER ENEMY. THAT OPENING YONDER MAY CONCEAL AN AMBUSH!"

TARZAN, HOWEVER, CONCEIVED A PLAN. CALLING HIS FREE-MEN TOGETHER, HE OUTLINED HIS STRATAGEM.

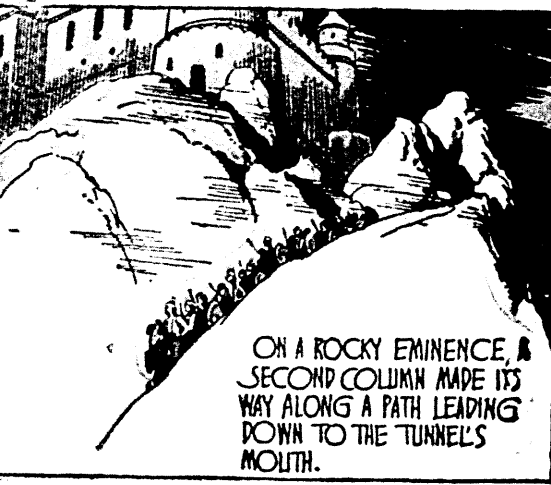

"IF THE BEEM VINDS DEIGN, I SHALL DEEM HIS FIVE AND LEAD HIM AWAY. WE SHALL MEET AT THE GARDEN OF DEATH!"

TRULY, THE JUNGLE LORD HAD FORESEEN THEIR FLIGHT, FOR EVEN NOW THEIR FOE WAS HASTENING TO BLOCK THE ESCAPE.

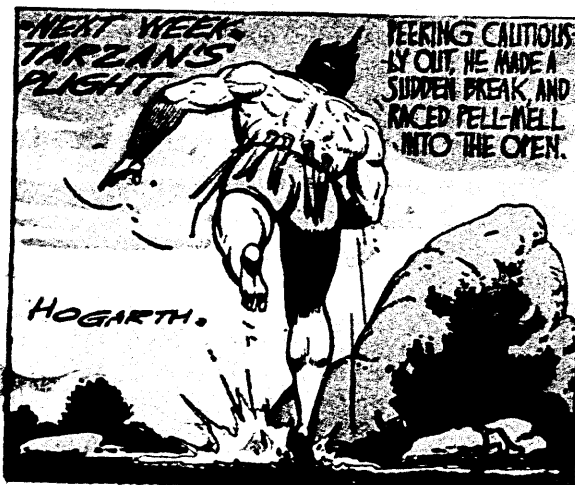

DON MACABRE, COMING UP FROM BEHIND, ARRIVED AT THE POOL AND VIEWED THE DEAD MONSTER.

ON A ROCKY EMINENCE, A SECOND COLUMN MADE ITS WAY ALONG A PATH LEADING DOWN TO THE TUNNEL'S MOUTH.

NOW TARZAN SET HIS PLAN IN MOTION. WHILE HIS FOLLOWERS LOOKED ON, HE ARMED HIMSELF WITH MANY KNIVES.

NEXT WEEK, TARZAN'S FLIGHT.

PEERING CAUTIOUSLY OUT, HE MADE A SUDDEN BREAK, AND RACED FELL-WELL INTO THE OPEN.

HOGARTH.

AS FLASH HURRIES BACK TOWARD THE UNDERGROUND HEADQUARTERS, HE IS ALMOST RUN-DOWN BY ARMORED CARS ON A DEADLY MISSION FOR THE TYRANT.

FLASH RUNS DESPERATELY TOWARD THE FIERCE EXPLOSIONS AHEAD. "I SHOULD HAVE KNOWN ROAG WOULD BETRAY OUR HIDE-OUT!" HE PANTS, BITTERLY. "BRAZOR IS STRIKING FIRST--- AND DALE IS IN THAT TRAP!"

FEARLESSLY JOINING HIS ENEMIES, FLASH GIVES SWIFT ORDERS THAT WILL WEAKEN AND SCATTER THE RAIDERS: "DON'T WASTE YOUR ATOM-POWER GRENADES ON THIS BLIND ALLEY! TAKE YOUR UNIT A BLOCK EAST OF HERE--- WE'RE FIGHTING THE OUTLAW'S MAIN FORCE THERE!"

RING

I WON'T BELIEVE IT UNTIL I SEE WITH MY OWN EYES

COME RIGHT IN--WELCOME! WELCOME!

LET ME HANG YOUR THINGS UP FOR YOU--WOULD YOU LIKE A CUP OF COFFEE BEFORE YOU START?

IT'S TOO GOOD TO BE TRUE--I'LL HAVE TO PHONE DAGWOOD AND TELL HIM THE WONDERFUL NEWS!

DAGWOOD, I'VE GOT A LAUNDRESS--A REAL LIVE LAUNDRESS!

THAT'S FINE--THAT'S FINE!

LAUNDRESS! SHE SAID LAUNDRESS!

DON'T BLOW YOUR TOP!

BUT I'M WORKING ON AN INVENTION FOR ARTIFICIAL RUBBER IN OUR LAUNDRY

IF THEY TRY TO MOVE MY APPARATUS, IT'LL BLOW UP!

STRATAGEM

TARZAN STOPPED SHORT. THE HEART-RENDING MOAN OUTSIDE THE PASSAGE SENT A SHUDDER THROUGH THE THROAT.

DISTRAUGHT, THAISSA RAN AHEAD CRYING: "FATHER—IT IS MY FATHER IN THE GARDEN OF DEATH!"

AS THE GIRL WAS ABOUT TO DASH FROM THE PASSAGE, THE APE-MAN SPURTED FORWARD AND SEIZED HER.

"WAIT, THAISSA! DON MACABRE IS A CLEVER ENEMY. THAT OPENING YONDER MAY CONCEAL AN AMBUSH!"

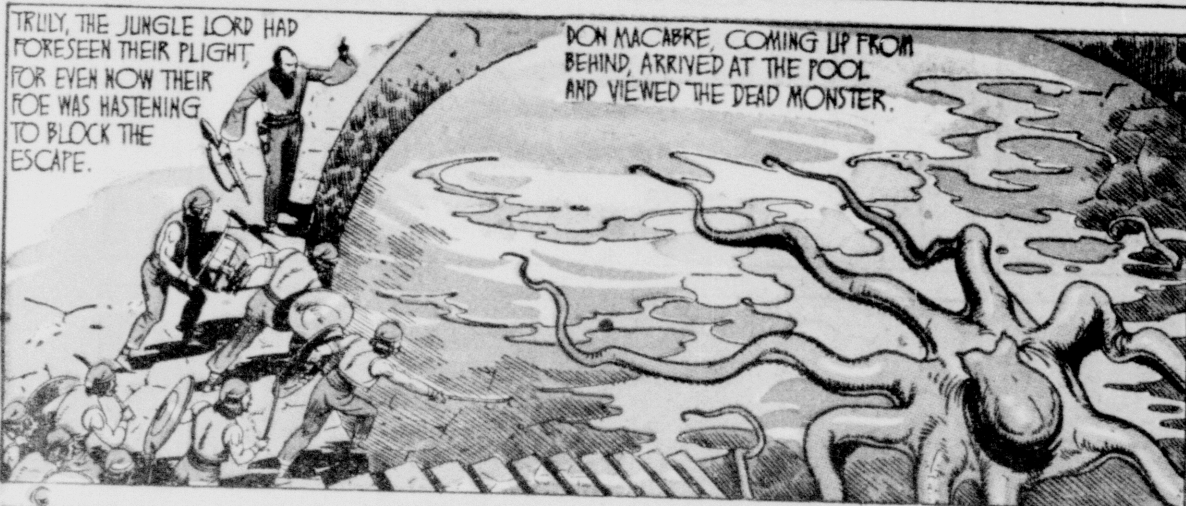

TARZAN, HOWEVER, CONCEIVED A PLAN. CALLING HIS FREE-MEN TOGETHER, HE OUTLINED HIS STRATAGEM.

"IF THE ENEMY WAITS BEYOND, I SHALL DRAW HIS FIRE AND LEAD HIM AWAY. WE SHALL MEET AT THE GARDEN OF DEATH!"

TRULY, THE JUNGLE LORD HAD FORESEEN THEIR PLIGHT. FOR EVEN NOW THEIR Foe WAS HASTENING TO BLOCK THE ESCAPE.

DON MACABRE, COMING UP FROM BEHIND, ARRIVED AT THE POOL AND VIEWED THE DEAD MONSTER.

THE ENEMY WAS NOW TOO CLOSE. HE SMILED AFTER THEM. THEY MUST NOT ESCAPE! HE PLUNGED INTO THE PASSAGE.

ON A ROCKY EMINENCE, A SECOND COLUMN MADE ITS WAY ALONG A PATH LEADING DOWN TO THE TUNNEL'S MOUTH.

NOW TARZAN SET HIS PLAN IN MOTION. WHILE HIS FOLLOWERS LOOKED ON, HE ARMED HIMSELF WITH MANY KNIVES.

NEXT WEEK'S TARZAN'S PLIGHT

PEEKING CAUTIOUSLY OUT, HE MADE A SUDDEN BREAK AND RACED PELL-MELL INTO THE OPEN.

HOGARTH.

YES!!—MY ATOM-DUPLICATOR WORKS!!—
MY THEORY IS THAT EVERY LIVING THING
IS COMPOSED OF MILLIONS OF ATOMS!!—
THIS ATOM DUPLICATOR DUPLICATES EACH ATOM—AND THE RESULT IS—AN EXACT LIVING REPLICA!!—

IT HAS ONLY TWO FLAWS!!—
ONE—IS THAT THERE IS NO CONTROL
OVER THE REPLICA'S BEHAVIOR—
TWO—IS THAT THE SYNTHETIC ATOMS IN THE REPLICA
DISINTEGRATE IN A FEW HOURS!!
WHO'S THAT!!

McGENIUS!! YOUSE ARE TOO DANGER-
OUS T' LIVE!! YOUSE MADE A DUPLICATE
O' OUR BOSS, GRASPINGHAM J. SNAKE-
HEART—AN' DE DUPLICATE GIVE AWAY
MILLIONS O' SNAKEHEART'S DOUGH
BEFORE IT
DISINTEGRATED!!!—

SNAKEHEART
DIDN'T LIKE
DAT, McGENIUS!!—
McGENIUS!!—
YOUSE GOTTA
GO!!—

AH!!—
THEY'RE GONE!!—

THESE ATOM-DUPLICATES
CERTAINLY COME IN HANDY!!—
BUT—THE NEXT TIME THEY MAY DESTROY THE ORIGINAL
—NAMELY ME!!—I MUST ESCAPE
TO SOME REMOTE SPOT WHERE I CAN CONTINUE MY RESEARCH
IN PEACE!!—

THE GREAT SCIENTIST COMES TO DOGPATCH—

HM-M!!—I NEED SOME CASH
FOR NEW EQUIPMENT. BUT THAT'S A SIMPLE MATTER!!—
I PLACE THE DUPLICATOR
OVER THIS CHOICE HOG WHICH LUCKILY STRAYED BY.

AND THEN—100 DUPLICATIONS LATER

STRANGER!!—
THET'S TH'
FINEST MESS
O' HAWGS AH
EVAH SEEN, OR
MAH NAME HAIN'T
SOFT-HEARTED
JOHN!!

I'LL SELL THEM
TO YOU, SIR,
AT HALF
THE PREVAIL-
ING MARKET
PRICE!!—

HO!! HO!!—OH, THET PORE, IGGORANT
SUCKER!!—AH SLIPPED IN A TIN DIME
AMONGST THE CASH!!—CHUCKLE!!—
WAIT'LL HE FINDS OUT HOW HE'S BEEN OUTSMARTED!!

FASTER,
HAWGS,
FASTER!!

WHUFFO IS YO' TALKIN'
T' YO'SELF,
SOFT-HEARTED
JOHN?

WHAR'S
MAH
HAWGS!!?

HAWGS?—
WHUT
